

Projects May Still Die

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — President Carter may fight again with Congress over 10 water projects he wanted killed, an administration official says.

"I wouldn't be surprised if you haven't heard the last of water projects, even for this year," said the official, a presidential aide who declined to be identified.

The aide left open the possibility that Carter might send Congress what is called a rescission and deferral message, in which the President could list congressionally-approved spending he wants either to delay or delete from the budget.

The move would force Congress to vote again on any projects Carter included in the message.

The aide declined to elaborate on

Carter's plans, other than to say preparations will have to be made if the President decides to go ahead with any further moves against the controversial projects.

The President, Mrs. Carter and daughter Amy spent their fifth day vacationing today in their south Georgia hometown. The visit, Carter's third since taking office, has been a mixture of work and play.

The Carters were expected to return to Washington on Wednesday.

After a morning visit with brother Billy at the family's peanut warehouse Monday, the President:

—Disclosed that the Palestinians have sent indirect word that they might adopt a United Nations resolution which recognizes Israel and its right to exist permanently and in peace with secure borders.

"If the Palestinians will recognize the applicability of the United Nations Resolution 242," Carter said, "then it will open up a new opportunity for us to start discussions with them and also open up an avenue that they might participate in the Geneva conference."

—Signed a $10-billion public works bill that includes the 10 water projects he wanted deleted. Carter succeeded in getting another nine cut out of the measure and four others modified.

Carter called that "a precedent-setting first step in curbing spending on unnecessary, expensive and environmentally damaging construction projects."

—Signed a clean-air bill he called

"sound and comprehensive," which gives Detroit a new delay in meeting tough new automobile exhaust standards. Automakers said the decision is necessary to begin building 1978-model cars.

The law puts off the tougher standards until 1980-model cars. Under present law, they would take effect on 1978 models, to begin rolling off production lines this month. The new law also gives dirty-air cities up to 10 years more to meet some standards.

—Rode with Billy in a four-wheel drive vehicle over dirt roads to one of the family's peanut fields, inspected the crop and said, "We think it might be saved" thanks to recent rain. But the corn crop, the President said, was lost.

Resignation Anniversary Passes Quietly

WASHINGTON (AP) — No crowds at the White House, no celebrations, no memorial services, not even a footnote on most calendars.

It is, perhaps, a date destined to live in limbo, neither cherished nor mourned. Three years ago today, President Richard M. Nixon resigned.

He quit the White House with a tearful speech and an unemotional letter. He left during a tumult that had come to encompass all Americans, but Gerald R. Ford, Hugh Scott and Peter Rodino more than most.

Today, those three and the nation make no public observance of the date.

So, too, for the former president, who quit with this letter now displayed in the National Archives, in a room next to the Constitution: "I hereby resign the Office of President of the United States."

He flew to California, where he remains, saying little except in paid-for television interviews.

Scott, now retired, but then the Senate Republican leader, watched Gerald Ford sworn in on that day three years ago, then hurried out of the East Room, through the crowds that had stood vigil in all those final hours, and up to the Capitol.

At his own office, he pulled out his finest gold-sealed stationery and he, too, wrote a letter that day, one of even greater brevity. Unlike Nixon's letter to the secretary of state, Scott's addressee did not require a zip code:

The Honorable James Madison
"Sir:
"It worked.
"Sincerely,
"Hugh Scott
"United States Senator."

It was a therapeutic exercise, a sigh of relief shared by many, that the Constitution fathered by Madison and the system it ordained had functioned under the severest strain.

So Air Force One, the Boeing 707 bearing the tail number 27000, sits in her chocks at Warner-Robbins AFB, Ga., today, waiting to bring a president back to the White House rather than take one away forever as she did on this date in 1974.

On Aug. 8, 1977, the anniversary of the day Nixon announced his intention to resign, Jimmy Carter sat on the edge of a peanut field, pulled a penknife from his bluejeans and slit open several watermelons to share with bodyguards and reporters.

He talked not of history or constitutional crises but of the deer in that field, and the army worms, and his wife's great-great-grandfather.

The White House itself was quiet. There were normal public tours. The normal spiels by the guides. Nothing about "On this day..."

Gerald R. Ford, who learned at midday on Aug. 8, 1974 that he would become the nation's first non-elected president, is at his retreat in Vail, Colo.

He worked on his book. He played a round of golf. And no, he wouldn't return a call about his thoughts concerning the anniversary or its meaning, according to his secretary.

Today, he was to leave Vail to go look at his new home — California, the state where Nixon lives.

Peter Wallace Rodino, Democrat of New Jersey, never felt quite comfortable riding the crest of a tidal wave. If Nixon had not resigned, he would have delivered the opening speech on Aug. 10, 1974 for a virtually certain impeachment of the President.

Then he would have been the prosecutor in the Senate.

Rodino, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, "is at home today, in the district, relaxing," said an aide, almost laughingly.

Rodino turned down consideration as Jimmy Carter's running mate. And on Aug. 10, 1974, he celebrated by getting to the office as late as 9:45 a.m.

The same was true today for the rest of the Congress, at home, relaxing. In Washington and across the land, people gathered around their television sets three years ago, first on the night of Aug. 8 to hear Nixon announce his resignation, not for crimes but for the loss of "a strong enough political base," then on Aug. 9, for his farewell to the Cabinet and Ford's swearing-in.

FIRE — Clearcreek Firefighters were able to keep a barn fire 11:23 a.m. Monday from spreading to adjacent buildings on the Ringgold-Southern Road. However, the barn, which is owned by Zelma Gardner, Ft. Myers, Fla., sustained $12,000 loss, and the contents, owned by Glen Storts, Route 5, sustained $930 loss. The barn was struck by lightning. Lightning also is suspected as the cause of a fire which destroyed a barn and two cattle sheds owned by Gaylord Downs, 12685 Crowsnest Mill Road. Firefighters from Williamsport and Mt. Sterling battled the 10:55 a.m. Monday blaze, but loss was estimated at between $15,000 and $20,000.

Center Sees Critical Fight

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — The room has a panoramic view of the southern Idaho desert, but no one has time to enjoy it. Technicians scurry from radio consoles to maps of the western United States marked with big red X's.

Each X represents a forest fire. This is the "war room" of the Boise Interagency Fire Center, which is coordinating a battle against flames that have consumed nearly 2 million acres in seven states.

Near the maps, each fire and its size is posted. On a large board nearby, the location of fire fighting aircraft is plotted. Voices are heard checking the location of men and equipment.

Spread over desks are situation reports, cold cups of coffee and half-smoked cigarettes.

Tension fills the room. The fire situation remains critical, and the long hours and hard work are beginning to show on the faces of crews who staff the centers 24 hours a day. Some have been on duty almost constantly since last Thursday, when a special fire emergency plan was put into effect.

The fire center is a cooperative effort of five federal agencies — the U.S. Forest Service, the Bureau of Land Management, the Bureau of Indian Affairs, the National Park Service and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Through it, men and equipment are routed to fight fires in California, Oregon, Washington, Alaska, Colorado, Utah and Arizona.

"This is the most central location for large forest fire logistical supply, manpower and equipment to the western United States. This is where the largest forest fires occur and where the need is the greatest," said the center's director, R.L. Bjornsen.

On Monday, more than 1,000 experienced firefighters were either waiting at Boise or en route to the center for dispatching to other western points, said Arnold Hartigan, a fire information officer. Since Thursday, he said, nearly 2,000 men had been dispatched through the center.

After the crews arrive at the center, they usually rest for 24 hours, receive training in the use of protective fire suits, then are airlifted to areas where more crews are needed.

Crews from the East and Southeast have been summoned to augment the weary local firefighters, stretched thin as the blaze continues to spread.

Several crews arrived early Monday morning from Knoxville, Tenn., and spent most of the day relaxing around the center, waiting for orders to head for a fire.

Arthur Bradley of Laurel, Miss., said this was the seventh time he had flown west to fight fires. "I've fought fires in Montana, then in New Mexico ... and last year we were in Virginia, Kentucky, then on that big one up in Michigan," he said.

The mess hall was full Monday as crews flown in the night before ate lunch and waited for the call to move out. They had come not only from Mississippi, but from national forest and Job Corps crews in North Carolina and Virginia, and from state divisions of forestry in Tennessee and Pennsylvania.

COMMISSIONERS AWARD — Anna J. Stone, 17460 Little Walnut Road, won the Commissioners Award as the grand champion of the Homemaking, Hobbies, and Novelties Department at the Pickaway County Fair. The award was presented by Commissioners L. Robert Liston, Donald Strous, and Carl Schein.

Public Utilities Board Acts On Many Items

The Circleville Board of Public Utilities met in regular session Monday evening in the Water Department offices on W. Franklin St.

The meeting was called to order at 8 p.m. The first order of business was to approve the minutes of the previous meeting and all vouchers.

Clyde Houdeshell, superintendent of the sewage treatment plant, addressed the Board concerning equipment and new tools for the plant.

Among the equipment requested was a heavy metal tester and a machine that would automatically remove water samples from various treatment stages at the plant for required testing. The heavy metal tester would save large sums of money that would have to be spent to send samples away, and the automatic sample taker would free an employee to do other work and would insure that the samples are taken properly, according to Houdeshell.

Along with the equipment was a request for tools necessary for the everyday operation of the sewage plant, including wrenches, a drill press, and an electric welder. Board member Harold Clifton made a motion to purchase the equipment and tools provided the funds were available to do so from the government grant for construction of the plant.

The Board also moved to accept the resignation of Betty Combs from the office staff at the utility offices, and also moved to hire Carla Graham to replace Ms. Combs. They also authorized Houdeshell to present an ordinance to city council for the hiring

Why? Phillips was the driver ... Deputy Phillips said he was patrolling on the Walnut Creek Pike, a half mile south of St. Paul Road, 1:59 a.m. Tuesday when the dense fog obscured visibility ... His car, cruiser 65-05, crashed into the ditch and fence and sustained very minor damage ... Phillips was not physically hurt, according to his fellow deputies.

Weather

A stationary front over the Great Lakes will combine with a southerly flow of warm air to produce rain over Central Ohio through Wednesday. Variable cloudiness, warm, and humid today, tonight, and tomorrow with a 50 per cent chance of thunderstorms today and a 70 per cent chance tonight and Wednesday. The high temperatures will be near 90, while the low will be near 70.

Voter Registration 'Tip' Saves Drive

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — If Ohioans get a chance to vote this November on whether they can register and cast ballots on the same day, they will have an anonymous tipster to thank.

The Ohioans for Preservation of Honest Elections (OPHE) received an important tip Monday as they were gathering up boxes of petitions bearing about 400,000 signatures.

Those signing the documents claim they want to vote Nov. 8 on a constitutional amendment that would forbid same-day voter registration.

The amendment would instead require all voters to register at least 30 days before an election and also would require registered voters who have not gone to the polls in four years to re-register.

The move is in response to a law passed by the Democrat majority in the legislature which allows same-day registration as well as permanent voter status.

The OPHE had planned to file the petitions with Republican Secretary of State Ted W. Brown this afternoon—right on the deadline. But a phone call from Morgan County told the group that a retired teacher filed a suit in the county's Common Pleas Court asking the judge to forbid the petitions' filing.

Judge Forrest MacDonald issued a 14-day temporary restraining order against the group filing the petitions and against Brown accepting them.

Brown said Monday he did not receive the order until after 4 p.m. and assumes it does not apply to the petitions filed before that time. OPHE officials agreed, claiming extra safety in that they filed the petitions about 20 minutes before MacDonald's order became official.

The Board also moved to accept the resignation of Betty Combs from the office staff at the utility offices, and also moved to hire Carla Graham to replace Ms. Combs. They also authorized Houdeshell to present an ordinance to city council for the hiring of supervisory personnel for the new sewage treatment plant.

Board chairman Dr. John Bowers moved not to install a gasoline pump at the Water Department workshop at this time. Action in regards to the trucks owned by the public utilities board was tabled until a further meeting.

The Board gave authorization to Floyd G. Brown and Associates to conduct a water rate study for the city.

Project reports and their per cent of completion were listed as follows: general contract—sewage treatment plant, 97 per cent; sludge conditioning with Zimpro, 96 per cent; J.A. Guy, heating and ventilation, 99 per cent; American Electrical, 92 per cent; Universal tank, 97 per cent; Contract 1S, 92 per cent; and Contract 2, 100 per cent.

The Board also moved to certify delinquent sewer accounts and place them on the tax duplicate. They also moved to turn off water service to collect bills, and also to adjust bills through the city solicitor.

To comply with the state auditor's instructions the Board moved to approve all vouchers before they are paid, including the payroll vouchers.

It was moved by the Board to write consumer deposits after five years, to balance consumer funds, and to run a control on consumer deposits every month.

The Board also moved to use "whatever means necessary" to collect a water bill from a local physician.

The Board authorized Houdeshell to check on the efforts being made by the local RCA plant to remove sand from the sewer lines connected to the plant.

On the recommendation of Bowers, the Board moved to install sewers in customers back yards from now on. According to Bowers, it is easier to service such sewers, and he also cited rising costs of maintaining sewers under public streets as the reasons for the move.

Water rates to customers outside the city corporation limits are currently one and a half times the normal rate. At the next Public Utilities Board meeting, an increase in the out-of-city rate will be discussed.

The Board also discussed the removal of a door and a wall in the W. Franklin St. offices to make the area more accessible to the public.

Harold Clifton moved, and it was seconded by Bowers, that the Board approach the village of Williamsport in regards to treating the village's waste in the sewage treatment plant.

With the agenda completed, the meeting was adjourned at 10:30 p.m.

Voter Registration 'Tip' Saves Drive

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — If Ohioans get a chance to vote this November on whether they can register and cast ballots on the same day, they will have an anonymous tipster to thank.

The Ohioans for Preservation of Honest Elections (OPHE) received an important tip Monday as they were gathering up boxes of petitions bearing about 400,000 signatures.

Those signing the documents claim they want to vote Nov. 8 on a constitutional amendment that would forbid same-day voter registration.

The amendment would instead require all voters to register at least 30 days before an election and also would require registered voters who have not gone to the polls in four years to re-register.

The move is in response to a law passed by the Democrat majority in the legislature which allows same-day registration as well as permanent voter status.

The OPHE had planned to file the petitions with Republican Secretary of State Ted W. Brown this afternoon—right on the deadline. But a phone call from Morgan County told the group that a retired teacher filed a suit in the county's Common Pleas Court asking the judge to forbid the petitions' filing.

Judge Forrest MacDonald issued a 14-day temporary restraining order against the group filing the petitions and against Brown accepting them.

Brown said Monday he did not receive the order until after 4 p.m. and assumes it does not apply to the petitions filed before that time. OPHE officials agreed, claiming extra safety in that they filed the petitions about 20 minutes before MacDonald's order became official.

The OPHE needed, according to Ohio's law regarding constitutional amendments, 307,901 signatures to get the matter on the ballot. If the signatures filed with Brown Monday are certified by local boards of election, the issue might be before the voters Nov. 8, assuming no further court challenges.

MacDonald also has issued an order forbidding the group from circulating the petitions in his county. The 5th District Court of Appeals last week struck down that order only to see MacDonald upheld on appeal before the Ohio Supreme Court.

Market Report

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market lost more ground today after Monday's decline to a 19-month low in the Dow Jones industrial average.

The Dow average of 30 blue chips dropped more than 2 points in early trading.

Lose took a 3-2 lead over gainers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Analysts said fears of a tighter Federal Reserve credit policy and rising interest rates were continuing to depress the market.

Today's early prices included Sears Roebuck, up 1/8 at 29 1/2; General Motors, down 1/8 at 66 1/2; Exxon, 1/8 lower at 51, and Hewlett-Packard, unchanged at 78 1/2.

On Monday the Dow fell 9.27 to 879.42, its lowest close since it finished at 877.83 on Jan. 5, 1976.

Lose outnumbered gainers by a 2-1 margin on the NYSE.

Big Board volume slowed to 15.87 million shares, down from 19.94 million Friday and the lightest total since a 17.73 million-share day on May 27.

The NYSE's composite index fell .38 to 53.66.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was off .36 at 120.17.

Personal Income Increases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department says the growth of personal income from the first quarter of 1976 to the first quarter of 1977 outpaced the rise in consumer prices by 4 1/4 per cent.

Personal income increased 9 1/4 per cent during the period, compared with an increase of 5 1/2 per cent in consumer prices, the department said Thursday.

All states and the District of Columbia reported an increase in personal income.

Six Western states plus Michigan and New Hampshire reported the largest rises in nonfarm personal income. Delaware and North Dakota had the smallest increases, both about 6 per cent or roughly equal to the increase in consumer prices.

Nevada led the states with a 14.4 per cent increase in nonfarm personal income, due largely to increased tourism. Michigan was next with a 12.9 per cent increase, due to increased auto production.

The other Western states reporting large gains in nonfarm personal income were: Utah 12.7 per cent; Wyoming 12.7 per cent; Oregon 12.4 per cent; Idaho 12.2 per cent, and Montana 11.7 per cent. New Hampshire registered an increase of 11.9 per cent.

Michigan, Wyoming, Utah, Oregon and Idaho each had especially strong federal civilian or manufacturing payrolls in the first quarter.

Personal income consists of private and government wage and salary payments, interest, dividends, housing values and transfer payments before deduction for taxes.

Miners Return In Southern Ohio

By The Associated Press

Some 2,100 miners have returned to work at three Southern Ohio coal mines in Meigs and Vinton counties and the Sunny Hill Mine in Perry County.

The action Monday brought peace to the southeastern Ohio coal fields for the first time in weeks. The four mines were closed by pickets protesting cutbacks in the union's health benefits program.

Rules Slow Aid To Needy

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — State officials disbursing a $13.3 million fund to help Ohio's poor and elderly overcome the hardship of last winter's heating bills admit that strict eligibility rules are keeping many needy persons from qualifying for grants.

Ohioans have until Friday to apply for financial aid from a special federal program for those whose finances are still suffering from the high fuel costs of the winter. But not all needy persons will qualify.

Viola, for example, a 93-year-old Allen County resident living on a $177-per-month in Social Security, had winter heating bills as high as $77 per month. She always managed to pay those bills on time, but her application is one of thousands that has been turned down under terms of the Special Crisis Intervention Program.

Allen County welfare director Neal Sprang said the woman, like many other Ohioans, was unable to prove that payments of winter utility bills put her in "dire financial need."

The government's definition of dire need requires the person be in danger of having utilities shut off, be in need of food or medicine, or be in danger of eviction.

While the maximum payment is $250, those who sacrificed to pay heating bills and who are now suffering other hardships can collect up to $50.

"We may not reach as many people as intended, especially those like Viola with the integrity and honesty to pay their bills," said Sprang.

"They can't prove dire financial need at this time, even though they suffered a hardship this winter," he said.

The view was shared by Jean Adkins, program planner for the state department of public welfare, which is administering the program for the federal Economic and Community Development branch of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

"The program signed into law in early May has come too far after the need," said Ms. Adkins, who prefers that designation.

"Most have solved their bill paying problems. We have had people take out loans and we can't say they are in dire financial need, as a result," she said.

The welfare department is "trying to be as lenient as possible" she added.

Thieves Haul Loot In Stolen Van

Thieves looted James Fortney's 10317 Route 62, Harrisburg, home of household items Monday morning and then stole his 1977 Ford van to haul the merchandise away.

Don Thompson, Detective with the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department, and Deputy Tim Hasselbring found that entry was gained to the house through a kitchen window.

The second floor of the dwelling was ransacked they said.

Thieves took a 17-inch Sony color television set, a 12-inch Sony color television set, a Litton micro-wave oven, and a Remington Sportsmen 12 gauge shotgun.

Detective Thompson believes the items were loaded into the 1977 Ford van, which was parked in the garage. Keys for the vehicle were apparently taken from the house.

Mrs. Fortney told Detective Thompson that she thought she saw the van, valued at $9,500, driving on Route 62 near their home about noon.

Over $1,100 in radio communication equipment was taken from a storage room at Flo-Lizer Inc., Derby.

Merchandise taken included six company-owned mobile citizen band radios, a Cobra base station, microphone, and man's jacket.

Deputy Bill Carmean said a Cobra 138 side band owned by Max Havens, Mt. Sterling, was also taken. The side band is valued at $270.

Entry to the Flo-Lizer plant was gained by breaking a screen and glass from an office window.

KSU Confrontation
Remains In Limbo

CLEVELAND (AP) — Construction of the controversial gymnasium annex at Kent State University has been delayed until at least Aug. 17, with a compromise on the issue nowhere in sight.

On that date, U.S. District Court Judge Thomas D. Lambros will hear arguments on whether he should extend his temporary restraining order banning the construction.

Lambros issued the order July 29 to protect the rights of protesters who are seeking to have the site declared a historic landmark.

The construction is planned near the site of the 1970 National Guard shootings that killed four students and wounded nine during an antiwar demonstration.

Lambros said Monday he could not get lawyers for KSU and for the protesting May 4th Coalition to agree on a compromise plan. Lambros had been meeting with attorneys for the two sides since Aug. 1.

Although he continued the ban for nine days, Lambros said, "The state is not required to provide a place for a forum for certain views." He said the protesters' rights of freedom of speech and assembly did not extend to the annex site.

Lambros said he was acting to prevent the state from destroying the site while the historical study was being made.

Attorney William M. Kunstler of New York, one of nine volunteer lawyers for the coalition, said this ruling is the first time a federal judge has agreed to consider as a constitutional issue, the citizens' rights to petition for a redress of grievances.

Speaking of Lambros, Kunstler said, "He's going back to the hallmark of democracy. It's a real challenge. It's a lawyer's dream to have a federal judge entertain such an issue as this."

The KSU trustees only made one concrete offer, proposing the rotation of the annex to the southeast to place it further from the site of the shootings, Kunstler said.

But the university's interim president, Dr. Michael Schwartz, said after Lambros' decision, the university had negotiated in good faith while the coalition had refused to negotiate.

"I want the people to know that the additional cost of moving the annex would run into the millions of dollars. Not building the facility at all would cost an unknown but very large sum of money. In return, we would get nothing at all at a time when the university desperately needs a new facility," Schwartz said.

BREAD WINNER — Judy Reichelderfer, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Reichelderfer, Tarlton, won first place in Breads I.

Privacy Threat Explosion

Getting to know a problem is a good way to begin working on a solution. The Privacy Protection Study Commission, a federal advisory body, has given Congress personal privacy in an age of Big Brother.

To begin with, the commission catalogs 6,753 "personal data systems" maintained by 97 government agencies and including files of some kind on just about every American. Cumulatively there are four billion individual files in those "systems," many of them innocent and necessary--but at least some of them questionable.

The big question in dealing with such a magnitude of personal data scattered over such a wide array of offices is the assurance the data is used only for legitimate purposes and is accurate to begin with. The commission addressed the question by making 162 recommendations on safeguarding the material and providing access by the individual to information stored on him.

Whatever other plans members of Congress may have for their summer recess, perusing this report and its recommendations and preparing to act on them is one bit of homework their constituents should insist upon.

Biblical Sexism

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — A committee of 24 scholars is currently at work on a new edition of the Revised Standard Version of the Bible - attempting to eliminate some of the pro-masculine language therein.

It will not be an easy job to delete "sexism" from the Bible. Because, let us face it, the original authors of The Good Book did not conceive of women as equals or even runners-up.

Beginning with Genesis, woman was established as springing from man, and as being the instigator of original sin. Women are told:

"I will greatly multiply your pain in childbirth. In pain you shall bring forth children; yet your desire shall be for your husband, and he shall rule over you."

From that point onward, the Bible is laden with adventures which stress man's superiority and women's subservience. The men accomplished great deeds of good and evil. The women begat them. CAN IT BE DONE?

guidelines to determine masculine-biased biblical language. First and most important is the elimination of certain masculine expressions not found in the original texts, but introduced by early translators (who apparently may have been more prejudiced against women, or at least less concerned about them, than the original authors). Second, the committee will not alter any passages which reflect a historical situation in which was obviously a "masculine-oriented" and "male-dominated" society.

Oh, yes, women were truly put down in biblical times, though they didn't realize it. A women professor of Political Science, Dr. Susan Leeson, believes the ancient authorities established second-class citizenship for females centuries ago "when a division of labor was based on physical strength as a necessary condition of survival."

The printed odds against us began with the Bible, and continued until very recently.

"The ancient Greek histories were also male-dominance-oriented," Dr. Leeson points out. Xenophon said: "War, politics and public speaking are the sphere of man; that of a woman is to keep house, to stay at home, and to receive and attend her husband."

Finally, comes the Revolution. The American Revolution, and John Adams speaks of women... "Their delicacy renders them unfit for practice and experience in the great businesses of life, and the hardy enterprises of war, as well as the arduous cares of state. Besides, their attention is so much engaged with the necessary nurture of their children that nature had made them fittest for domestic cares."

Given all the centuries of religious, social and political tradition of degrading woman into subservient roles, Dr. Leeson felt it should be obvious that not even the most militant movement toward true sexual equality will succeed in the near future. Abe Lincoln freed the slaves, and the Supreme Court ordered equality - but it is a long, long, long time between rulings and realities. Until there are fundamental changes in our traditional beliefs, equality cannot exist.

The rewording of the Bible could be a beginning of the fundamental change - but the male scholars are slow and meticulous and one wonders how long it will take the message to get across to a populace hung up on reading about the joys of sex - a concept which may be intrinsically more sexist than the Bible, itself.

In fact, the depth of the feelings of women's inferiority are rooted in the Judeo-Christian tradition.

The Koran didn't help the women's cause either. It states: "Men shall have the pre-eminence above women, because of those advantages wherein God hath caused the one of them to excel the other."

Nevertheless, according to a recent report in the New York Times, the biblical scholars are attempting to make inroads into the prejudicial language which exists in the world's best-selling book.

Dr. Bruce M. Metzger, professor of New Testament language and literature at Princeton Theological Seminary, heads the group charged with getting the new edition into print by the mid-1980s. Examples of potential changes are listed:

"The committee will retain the word 'man' in the phrases 'A man had 100 sheep' and 'Man planted a vineyard' - because in first-century Christianity, the shepherds and farmers were, in fact, males.

"On the other hand, in Matthew 22:13, in place of 'there men will weep and gnash their teeth,' the committee prefers 'weeping will be there and gnashing of teeth.'"

This, apparently, is an acknowledgement that women were capable of crying and gnashing as well as men.

In Romans 5:7, instead of the original phrase "one will hardly die for a righteous man," the committee is proposing "for someone who is righteous." This apparently is considered a marked step forward; conceding, in effect, that females could be as guiltless and morally correct as males.

Similarly, where the First Psalm reads "blessed is the man who walks not in the counsel of the wicked," women will be included in the realm of the blessed if the proposed change to "blessed are those" is approved.

Dr. Metzger is reported as saying that his committee is using certain

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Among the items expected to be included in President Carter's tax package is one that in some instances would double the tax on long-term capital gains, a measure that some say will set off an explosion of controversy.

Don't bet on it. The President's feelings on the matter have been known for a long time, but so far the feelings of those likely to be affected haven't been ignited. If there's a fuse on this one it must be wet.

Nevertheless, the very notion of making capital gains less attractive is bound to have an impact on homeowners, investors, industry, the economy. Potentially, it is as controversial as any tax matter in several years.

In an attempt to make the tax code fairer and simpler, those behind the idea say that long-term capital gains, such as you would make from the sale of a house or stocks, should be taxed as ordinary income instead of at one-half that rate.

That undoubtedly would simplify the tax forms, which are made complex and longer by the need to account separately for capital gains. But whether they would then be fairer is another matter.

First off, some say the tax already is a tax on an illusion. That is, with inflation running 6 or 7 per cent on average for several years now, many socalled capital gains aren't real.

An individual who wishes to sell one $35,000 house and buy another of the same price, for example, might find he couldn't afford to do so. Assuming the house now owned was bought five years ago for $25,000, inflation had added $10,000, the homeowner would find himself after taxes with far less than $35,000, unless he managed to avail himself of a little known section of the tax code.

From one point of view, therefore, it would seem that the capital gains tax should be adjusted for inflation in order to end the practice of assessing taxes on unreal, paper profits. Instead, the assessment would be raised.

Other critics argue that capital gains are a special form of income, in which a greater degree of risk is assumed than is taken on by those with an assured income. A capital gains investor, it is pointed out, has a greater chance of losing.

But, it might be countered, the capital gainer stands to make an occasional killing and, if not that, then a fairly substantial reward. It's the old risk-reward ratio; as risk rises, so does the size of the potential reward.

Another argument for continuing the capital gains tax is that the country needs it. That is, new investments must be encouraged if the economy is to expand and make jobs available for a growing population.

The question probably isn't so much whether capital gains are desirable or undesirable, but why some of the most powerful financial entities in the land haven't spoken out yet, for or against.

That in itself has the ingredients of still another debate.

Business Loans To Women Rise

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Small business loans to women are on the rise, according to the director of the Columbus district of the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA).

Frank D. Ray, SBA director, says the number of loans approved for female owners of small businesses has increased over 100 per cent in one year. Ray said that in the past twelve months, 83 loans totalling $7,148,621 were approved for Ohio business owners who are women. Twelve months earlier, 40 loans totalling about $2 million were approved.

Ray attributes the increase to the numbers of women moving into business management and ownership for the first time.

Ray said the SBA will hold a conference in Columbus Oct. 11 entitled, "Business Ownership: an Alternative for Today's Woman."

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Two people in our family have Parkinson's disease. They're both being treated with the new drugs and are holding their own. Is there anything new in discovering the cause of Parkinson's?

Mrs. I. H., Wis.

Dear Mrs. H.:

Parkinson's disease, or "shaking palsy," is a complex disorder of the central nervous system. Some of the characteristics of this condition are rigidity of the muscles, weakness of the muscles and a tremor of the hands.

The fixed facial expression is emphasized by a wide-eyed, unblinking, staring appearance of the eyes.

I mention these characteristics because the lack of mobility of the facial muscles often gives observers the false impression that the victim of this disorder is not bright or intellectually alert. There is NO relationship between the mental faculties and this disorder.

The cause for Parkinson's disease is being studied by scientists everywhere. Each lead is pursued in the hope that eventually it can be prevented. It is thought that there may be a genetic factor involved. Enzyme defects and infections by viruses are also being considered.

After a severe infection of the brain

(encephalitis), Parkinsonism is known to occur.

Advances in the treatment of Parkinson's disease have been very dramatic. The drug, levodopa (L-dopa), and its variations have improved the quality of life for patients suffering with the disease.

I had an attack of rheumatic fever at the age of 12. Does this mean that all my life I will be more susceptible to this type of infection?

Miss D. E. R., Ohio

Dear Miss R.:

One attack of rheumatic fever does not make a person more susceptible to this infection.

If an infection was originally responsible for the condition it must, of course, be eliminated. The streptococcus germ, most responsible for rheumatic fever, may be harbored in chronically diseased tonsils, teeth, sinuses and other areas of the body.

Since this germ can be destroyed by penicillin and other antibiotics, intensive treatment can prevent possible recurrences of rheumatic fever. For this reason, many physicians insist that their patients remain on regular doses of antibiotics for long periods of time.

Toledo Bar Claims Fame From Song

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Yes, country music fans, there IS "a bar in Toledo, across from the depot."

And business is booming at the Country Palace nightclub, thanks to a popular country music record of the domestic troubles of a mysterious woman named "Lucille."

"Lucille," written by Nashville songwriters Hal Bynum and Roger Bowling and recorded by Kenny Rogers, hit the million seller mark this summer while at the top of country and popular music charts in the United States and England.

The opening line: "In a bar in

Kurfess Lashes Out At Demos

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — House Minority Leader Charles Kurfess has launched his campaign for governor by accusing the Democratic-controlled General Assembly of being "the most arrogant in history."

Kurfess noted Saturday that the Democratic leadership billed its election day registration law as an effort to make it easier to register and vote, but at the same time has tried to block the people from being able to vote in a referendum on the controversial law.

Kurfess, who appeared in Youngstown and seven other cities during an airborne whistlestop tour of the state, also criticized a Democratic sponsored bill aimed at removing Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes from having effective line-item veto power over appropriations.

"The governor is part of the legislative authority in Ohio," Kurfess said. "And the item veto power is set forth in the state's constitution."

Kurfess, 47, has been an unofficial candidate for months and is starting his race for the GOP gubernatorial nomination eight months before the filing deadline for next June's primary.

At his first stop in Toledo, Kurfess told an airport crowd his candidacy had been "one of the worst kept secrets in Ohio politics."

Other stops on the day-long round of campaigning included Mansfield, Cleveland, Akron, Columbus, Dayton and Cincinnati.

A 20-year veteran in the legislature, Kurfess is the first candidate from either party to officially begin a campaign.

Kurfess is a Wood County attorney and represents the 83rd District in the House.

Toledo, across from the depot..." refers to the Country Palace, Bynum said in a recent interview.

Duane Abbajay, Country Palace owner, said the place has achieved some fame with country music lovers from Ohio, Michigan, New York and Indiana stopping in to see where "Lucille" was born.

"Some of 'em come in and sit down, look around, and say 'So this is the place,'" Abbajay said.

Bynum said he wrote the song last year on a visit to Toledo from his home in Nashville, Tenn. He said he'd been having some marital problems and boarded a bus "to get out of town and do some serious drinking."

"I had some time to kill and walked from the bus parking lot (in Toledo) across the street to this bar," Bynum recalled.

While sitting at a table in the Country Palace, Bynum said he could hear a conversation between a man and his estranged wife.

The couple exchanged angry words and finally, as the man got up to leave, he said "All I can say is, you picked a fine time to leave me," Bynum recalled.

The songwriter said he scribbled some words on a napkin. The song dealt with a man entering a bar, picking up a woman who was on the rebound from an unhappy marriage and a confrontation with the woman's husband.

Bynum said the name Lucille was added to make the lines rhyme. He said no names were mentioned in the Country Palace encounter.

Political Training For Women Slated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Their motto is, "A Woman's Place Is In The House...and the Senate."

To help put women in their places, the Ohio AFL-CIO and the Coalition of Labor Union Women will hold a political training school Aug. 27-28 at the Sheraton Columbus.

The United Auto Workers of Ohio, the Ohio Education Association and the Ohio Women's Political Caucus are co-sponsoring the conference, at which U.S. Rep. Mary Rose Oakar, D-Cleveland, will be the keynote speaker. Other guests include State Treasurer Gertrude Donahey and women members of the Ohio legislature.

Ohio was the fifth state to ratify the woman's suffrage amendment to the Constitution in 1919. By 1923 there were six women in the state legislature. — AP

NEW YORK (AP) — Among the items expected to be included in President Carter's tax package is one that in some instances would double the tax on long-term capital gains, a measure that some say will set off an explosion of controversy.

Don't bet on it. The President's feelings on the matter have been known for a long time, but so far the feelings of those likely to be affected haven't been ignited. If there's a fuse on this one it must be wet.

Nevertheless, the very notion of making capital gains less attractive is bound to have an impact on homeowners, investors, industry, the economy. Potentially, it is as controversial as any tax matter in several years.

In an attempt to make the tax code fairer and simpler, those behind the idea say that long-term capital gains, such as you would make from the sale of a house or stocks, should be taxed as ordinary income instead of at one-half that rate.

That undoubtedly would simplify the tax forms, which are made complex and longer by the need to account separately for capital gains. But whether they would then be fairer is another matter.

First off, some say the tax already is a tax on an illusion. That is, with inflation running 6 or 7 per cent on average for several years now, many socalled capital gains aren't real.

An individual who wishes to sell one $35,000 house and buy another of the same price, for example, might find he couldn't afford to do so. Assuming the house now owned was bought five years ago for $25,000, inflation had added $10,000, the homeowner would find himself after taxes with far less than $35,000, unless he managed to avail himself of a little known section of the tax code.

From one point of view, therefore, it would seem that the capital gains tax should be adjusted for inflation in order to end the practice of assessing taxes on unreal, paper profits. Instead, the assessment would be raised.

Other critics argue that capital gains are a special form of income, in which a greater degree of risk is assumed than is taken on by those with an assured income. A capital gains investor, it is pointed out, has a greater chance of losing.

But, it might be countered, the capital gainer stands to make an occasional killing and, if not that, then a fairly substantial reward. It's the old risk-reward ratio; as risk rises, so does the size of the potential reward.

Another argument for continuing the capital gains tax is that the country needs it. That is, new investments must be encouraged if the economy is to expand and make jobs available for a growing population.

The question probably isn't so much whether capital gains are desirable or undesirable, but why some of the most powerful financial entities in the land haven't spoken out yet, for or against.

That in itself has the ingredients of still another debate.

Business Loans To Women Rise

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Small business loans to women are on the rise, according to the director of the Columbus district of the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA).

Frank D. Ray, SBA director, says the number of loans approved for female owners of small businesses has increased over 100 per cent in one year. Ray said that in the past twelve months, 83 loans totalling $7,148,621 were approved for Ohio business owners who are women. Twelve months earlier, 40 loans totalling about $2 million were approved.

Ray attributes the increase to the numbers of women moving into business management and ownership for the first time.

Ray said the SBA will hold a conference in Columbus Oct. 11 entitled, "Business Ownership: An Alternative for Today's Woman."

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Two people in our family have Parkinson's disease. They're both being treated with the new drugs and are holding their own. Is there anything new in discovering the cause of Parkinson's?

Mrs. I. H. Wis.

Dear Mrs. H.:

Parkinson's disease, or "shaking palsy," is a complex disorder of the central nervous system. Some of the characteristics of this condition are rigidity of the muscles, weakness of the muscles and a tremor of the hands. The fixed facial expression is emphasized by a wide-eyed, unblinking, staring appearance of the eyes.

I mention these characteristics because the lack of mobility of the facial muscles often gives observers the false impression that the victim of this disorder is not bright or intellectually alert. There is NO relationship between the mental faculties and this disorder.

The cause for Parkinson's disease is being studied by scientists everywhere. Each lead is pursued in the hope that eventually it can be prevented. It is thought that there may be a genetic factor involved. Enzyme defects and infections by viruses are also being considered.

After a severe infection of the brain

(encephalitis), Parkinsonism is known to occur.

Advances in the treatment of Parkinson's disease have been very dramatic. The drug, levodopa (L-dopa), and its variations have improved the quality of life for patients suffering with the disease.

I had an attack of rheumatic fever at the age of 12. Does this mean that all my life I will be more susceptible to this type of infection?

Miss D. E. R., Ohio

Dear Miss R.:

One attack of rheumatic fever does not make a person more susceptible to this infection.

If an infection was originally responsible for the condition it must, of course, be eliminated. The streptococcus germ, most responsible for rheumatic fever, may be harbored in chronically diseased tonsils, teeth, sinuses and other areas of the body.

Since this germ can be destroyed by penicillin and other antibiotics, intensive treatment can prevent possible recurrences of rheumatic fever. For this reason, many physicians insist that their patients remain on regular doses of antibiotics for long periods of time.

Toledo Bar Claims Fame From Song

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Yes, country music fans, there IS "a bar in Toledo, across from the depot."

And business is booming at the Country Palace nightclub, thanks to a popular country music record of the domestic troubles of a mysterious woman named "Lucille."

"Lucille," written by Nashville songwriters Hal Bynum and Roger Bowling and recorded by Kenny Rogers, hit the million seller mark this summer while at the top of country and popular music charts in the United States and England.

The opening line: "In a bar in

Kurfess Lashes Out At Demos

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — House Minority Leader Charles Kurfess has launched his campaign for governor by accusing the Democratic-controlled General Assembly of being "the most arrogant in history."

Kurfess noted Saturday that the Democratic leadership billed its election day registration law as an effort to make it easier to register and vote, but at the same time has tried to block the people from being able to vote in a referendum on the controversial law.

Kurfess, who appeared in Youngstown and seven other cities during an airborn whistlestop tour of the state, also criticized a Democratic sponsored bill aimed at preventing Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes from having effective line-item veto power over appropriations.

"The governor is part of the legislative authority in Ohio," Kurfess said. "And the item veto power is set forth in the state's constitution."

Kurfess, 47, has been an unofficial candidate for months and is starting his race for the GOP gubernatorial nomination eight months before the filing deadline for next June's primary.

At his first stop in Toledo, Kurfess told an airport crowd his candidacy had been "one of the worst kept secrets in Ohio politics."

Other stops on the day-long round of campaigning included Mansfield, Cleveland, Akron, Columbus, Dayton and Cincinnati.

A 20-year veteran in the legislature, Kurfess is the first candidate from either party to officially begin a campaign.

Kurfess is a Wood County attorney and represents the 83rd District in the House.

Toledo, across from the depot..." refers to the Country Palace, Bynum said in a recent interview.

Duane Abbajay, Country Palace owner, said the place has achieved some fame with country music lovers from Ohio, Michigan, New York and Indiana stopping in to see where "Lucille" was born.

"Some of 'em come in and sit down, look around, and say 'So this is the place,'" Abbajay said.

Bynum said he wrote the song last year on a visit to Toledo from his home in Nashville, Tenn. He said he'd been having some marital problems and boarded a bus "to get out of town and do some serious drinking."

"I had some time to kill and walked from the bus parking lot (in Toledo) across the street to this bar," Bynum recalled.

While sitting at a table in the Country Palace, Bynum said he could hear a conversation between a man and his estranged wife.

The couple exchanged angry words and finally, as the man got up to leave, he said "All I can say is, you picked a fine time to leave me," Bynum recalled.

The songwriter said he scribbled some words on a napkin. The song dealt with a man entering a bar, picking up a woman who was on the rebound from an unhappy marriage and a confrontation with the woman's husband.

Bynum said the name Lucille was added to make the lines rhyme. He said no names were mentioned in the Country Palace encounter.

Political Training For Women Slated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Their motto is, "A Woman's Place Is In The House...and the Senate."

To help put women in their places, the Ohio AFL-CIO and the Coalition of Labor Union Women will hold a political training school Aug. 27-28 at the Sheraton Columbus.

The United Auto Workers of Ohio, the Ohio Education Association and the Ohio Women's Political Caucus are co-sponsoring the conference, at which U.S. Rep. Mary Rose Oakar, D-Cleveland, will be the keynote speaker. Other guests include State Treasurer Gertrude Donahey and women members of the Ohio legislature.

Ohio was the fifth state to ratify the woman's suffrage amendment to the Constitution in 1919. By 1923 there were six women in the state legislature. — AP

Energy Bill Raises Political Voltage

WASHINGTON (AP) — Whatever the massive energy bill may do for the country's supplies of fuel and power, it has already raised the political voltage of a high-level golf rivalry.

The rivals are former President Gerald R. Ford and House Speaker Thomas P. "Tip" O'Neill. They have been close friends and dedicated political and golfing opponents since they served as floor leaders for their respective parties in the House.

As the House went into its final arguments on the bill, a reporter told O'Neill that Ford had said Congress would be working on the legislation until Christmas.

"Where did he say that? At the seventh hole in Vail?" rumbled O'Neill, whose bulldozing through the legislative thickets had brought the immensely ramified bill to the floor in astonishingly short time.

Then O'Neill disclosed he and Ford had agreed on a highly visible match Aug. 17 in Sun Valley, Idaho, as part of a benefit meet for multiple sclerosis research and treatment.

And the speaker said he will be bringing more than his clubs to the meeting with the former president. "I'll hand him a copy of the House-passed bill," he said.

At least one concerned Texan thinks he knows whom to blame for what he doesn't like about the energy bill.

He wrote his congressman, "I urge you to use your vote and influence to defeat Ed Hock's Energy Committee proposal."

The bill was put together by the House Ad Hoc Committee on Energy.

If you've been tossing at night worrying about how congressmen traveling abroad get by on a $75 a day expense allowance, consider the advice Rep. William Frenzel, R-Minn., gave colleagues studying proposals to require increased disclosure of travel expenses.

First, said Frenzel, you avoid the name hotels and find one for $50 a day.

"That leaves $25 for meals and cab fare," he said. "In Europe you get breakfast — juice and a roll — with your room. For dinner you go to the ambassador's reception and eat canapes. So what you do is spend $25 on cab fare and skip lunch."

The Commission on Administrative Review also is looking into the operation of the House barber shops. One member, spotting a typographical error in a document, snickered, "What's a barber ship?"

"That's the guy I get," said Rep. Lloyd Meeds, D-Wash., "the Yankee clipper."

Defenders of the bicycle as a means of transportation got an amendment into the energy bill for a study by the Transportation Department of the energy efficiency of bicycles and of obstacles to their greater use.

Rep. Mickey Edwards, R-Okla., suggested the voters might regard this "in much the same manner as federal studies of Frisbees and the mating calls of toads."

But the proponents were dead serious.

Rep. George E. Brown, D-Calif., cited a study he said showed an automobile would have to get 100 miles to the gallon to be as efficient as a bicycle and that a switch to bicycles for only 6 per cent of short trips would save 827 million gallons of gasoline a year.

Rep. Bob Eckhardt, D-Tex., who pedals daily to the Capitol, called for protected lanes and better parking facilities — "We could work it out so one could park in front of the Rayburn (House Office) Building on an equal basis with a limousine."

Another congressional bicycle commuter, Rep. Edward W. Pattison, D-N.Y., agreed. He said he had no trouble parking his bike at the White House, but couldn't find parking space at a department store.

The danger he worries about when riding his bicycle, Pattison said, is breathing "the air caused by automobiles other people are driving."

Beef Vote Doomed From Start?

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The national beef referendum which was defeated in a recent national election was doomed from the start, according to one of its main Ohio supporters.

Approval by two-thirds of the cattlemen voting would have pumped $30 million to $40 million in checkoff money into research and promotion efforts across the country. The question posed nationwide in July 5-15 voting would have collected three-tenths of one per cent on the sale of every head of cattle. Refunds would have been available on specific application within 60 days of the sale.

It garnered 56.5 percent of the vote and Carl Harsh of the Ohio Beef Marketing Committee said it was unrealistic to expect more.

"It was unrealistic to get a two-thirds vote," Harsh said. "With every person eligible to vote, it depends on a majority of the people who don't depend on the cattle business for major part of their income." Under rules set by Congress, any person who raised even one beef or dairy cow during 1976 could vote.

Harsh preferred a majority for approval but Congress included the two-thirds rule with the recommendation of the American Farm Bureau Federation. An official of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation said there probably would never have been a referendum without American Farm Bureau support.

Reacting to comments that the two-thirds requirement killed chances for passage, an Ohio Farm Bureau official said, "Cattlemen agreed to the bill as it passed the Congress and if they felt as they say they felt, they shouldn't have supported the bill. This is no time to blame the farm bureau."

Both the American Farm Bureau and Ohio Farm Bureau stayed neutral during the referendum campaign, although some county farm bureau leaders supported it unofficially.

Some farm leaders maintain it wasn't the two-thirds rule that defeated the issue so much as fears the money would be too much to handle. They also expressed concern about wasted funds and that a highly-paid bureaucracy would be set up to spend it.

The money would have been collected from the cattle sales through a checkoff procedure.

Nationally, the referendum polled 130,464 votes for and 100,582 against. In Ohio, the vote was 2,475 for and 2,301 against the question.

Miss Metzger-Mr. Chester Exchange August Vows

MRS. MICHAEL EDWARD CHESTER

Miss Vicki Patricia Metzger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Metzger, Williamsport, became the bride of Mr. Michael Edward Chester, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight A. Chester, Chillicothe, in a 7:30 p.m., August 6 ceremony.

The Rev. Leonard Mann, performed the double ring service before the altar of the Trinity United Methodist Church, Chillicothe.

The altar was adorned with floral sprays of pink miniature carnations, ice blue daisies, purple cornflowers and baby's breath and flanked by seven branch candelabras.

Organist, Mrs. John Shawkey, presented a program of nuptial selections. Steven Barber presented a vocal solo.

The bride was given in marriage and escorted to the altar by her father. She chose a formal length gown of white silk organza with imported alencon lace. The gown featured an all lace natural bodice with sweetheart neckline edged in alencon lace. The long tapered sleeves were accented with lace cuffs. The skirt was edged in alencon lace and flowed into a chapel length train. Her cathedral length veil with fingertip mantilla with alencon lace motifs was held in place by lace profile. She wore a moonstone and blue sapphire necklace belonging to her mother. She carried a cascade bouquet of white rosebuds, ice blue daisies accented with English ivy.

Mrs. Rodd Metzger served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Steven Franz, Mrs. James Cargo, Mrs. Jeffery Sales, Mrs. James Waldsmith, and Mrs. Rom Kenorick.

Miss Dee Dee Howerton, served as flower girl. Master J. L. Scott Metzger served as ring bearer for the bridal pair.

Mr. Stephen Chester, brother of the bridegroom served as best man. Ushers were Mr. Todd Metzger, brother of the bride, Mr. Steven Franz, Mr. David Chester, Mr. James Cargo, and Mr. Rick Tuttle.

A buffet and dance reception was held at the Elks Lodge immediately following the ceremony. The buffet table was adorned with arrangements of pink miniature carnations, ice blue daisies, purple cornflowers. The wedding cake featured a fountain and was topped with a bird and groom.

The bride is a 1971 graduate of Unioto High School, and a BS in dietetics from Miami University, and her MS in human nutrition and food management from Ohio State University. She is presently perinatal nutritionist for the Ohio Department of Health.

The bridegroom is a 1971 graduate of Unioto High School and received his BA in zoology from Miami University. He is presently attending the college of optometry at Ohio State University, where he is a member of Epsilon Psi Epsilon, professional fraternity.

Honored guests at the wedding were Mrs. Oland Schooley and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Metzger, grandparents of the bride, and Mrs. Russell Chester, grandmother of the bridegroom.

The couple will reside at 1377 Westmoreland Ct., Columbus, Ohio.

The evening prior to the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Dwight A. Chester hosted a rehearsal dinner at the Fox Farm Inn, Chillicothe.

Miss Metzger was guest of honor at showers hosted by Mrs. Todd Metzger, and Mrs. Mark Young.

Tips On Selecting Quality Peaches

Peach varieties fall into one of two basic types: 'clingstone' or 'freestone,' although a few varieties are known as 'semi-clingstone' or 'semi-freestone.' Within each of these two types are two color classes: 'yellow-fleshed' and 'white-fleshed.'

Freestone varieties are most popular for fresh dessert use and freezing. Clingstone varieties are used principally for commercial canning but are sometimes sold for use as fresh fruit. Most of the peaches commonly offered for sale are of the yellow fleshed variety.

Good quality peaches should be bright and fresh in appearance and have a background color that is either yellowish or creamy. Red color or 'blush' may be present in differing degree, depending on variety and preharvest weather, but red color alone is not a true sign of edible quality. Peaches should be fairly firm or firm, but not hard.

Due to their high perishable nature, peaches are most frequently picked in a mature hard stage for long distance shipment and may arrive on the market too firm for immediate use. A creamy or yellowish background color usually indicates that such peaches will ripen in a reasonably satisfactory manner. However, peaches are sometimes picked so immature that they cannot ripen. Such fruit will shrivel or become flabby, with the flesh tough, rubbery and lacking in flavor.

Bruised fruit may involve excessive waste. Bruised flesh is usually soft and discolored and even though the outer skin covering the bruise may not be discolored.

Miss Roark, Mr. Spangler Will Marry

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Loretta Mae Roark, 455 W. High St., to Mr. Jerry Allen Spangler, son of Mrs. Lucia Spangler, Tarlton and the late Mr. Albert Spangler, is being announced by her grandfather Mr. Clarence W. Roark, Lancaster.

Miss Roark attended Amanda-Clearcreek High School, and is currently a volunteer at Brown Memorial Nursing Home.

Mr. Spangler is a 1961 graduate of Logan Elm High School and is currently employed by the Pickaway County Senior Center.

The open church wedding will be an event of 2:30 p.m., August 27, at the Tarlton Methodist Church. A reception will be held in the church social rooms following the ceremony.

Southern Area CCW Holds Meeting

The third quarterly board meeting of the Southern Area Council of Catholic Women was held on July 31, at St. Joseph Parish in Circleville.

The following parishes were represented and reports read: Holy Redeemer, Portsmouth; St. Mary's, Portsmouth; St. Mary's, Waverly; St. Mary's, Chillicothe; St. Peter's, Chillicothe; St. Peter and Paul, Wellston; Holy Trinity, Pond Creek; Holy Trinity, Jackson; and St. Joseph, Circleville.

There is a work-shop meeting scheduled for all Chillicothe Vicariate Parish Councils on October 1, from 10-4, at St. Mary's Parish in Waverly.

It was announced the annual Diocesan Council of Catholic Women Convention will be held at the Neil House, Columbus, on October 26. The National Council of Catholic Women Convention will be held in San Antonio, Texas, November 2-6. The delegate representing SACCW will be Lucille Nichols of Chillicothe.

The fourth quarterly board meeting is scheduled for October 16, at St. Mary's Parish in Portsmouth.

They are the parents of Mrs. Benjamin (Marilyn) Horne, Mrs. Forrest (Verona) Withers, and Mrs. G. Michael (Connie) Ramey, and Chester Ramey deceased. They have twelve grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Promenade Plan Faces Problems

PARIS (AP) — An experimental three-mile Paris Promenade meant to provide safe passageway for pedestrians is threatening to backfire in a politically-charged cloud of auto exhaust fumes.

The Aug. 2-16 experiment, initiated by Mayor Jacques Chirac, has closed some streets to traffic from the Arch of Triumph to Notre Dame Cathedral along the scenic Seine River.

So far, the scheme had drawn praise from pedestrians and snarls from drivers who sit steaming behind idling engines in traffic jams around the promenade.

Premier Raymond Barre himself was trapped in traffic for 25 minutes recently near the fenced-off Place de la Concorde along with thousands of other motorists trying to make their way home.

Paris is usually quiet in August when most residents escape the sweltering city on their summer vacations, but this year the city is alive with controversy over the promenade.

Chirac, sensitive to voter feelings just eight months before legislative elections in which the Communist-Socialist alliance is expected to make large gains, said Friday his administration is monitoring developments daily.

If traffic becomes too snarled, Chirac noted, the promenade route will be altered to clear congestion. He said the situation has improved after initial problems.

Miss Metzger-Mr. Chester Exchange August Vows

MRS. MICHAEL EDWARD CHESTER

Miss Vicki Patricia Metzger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Metzger, Williamsport, became the bride of Mr. Michael Edward Chester, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight A. Chester, Chillicothe, in a 7:30 p.m., August 6 ceremony.

The Rev. Leonard Mann, performed the double ring service before the altar of the Trinity United Methodist Church, Chillicothe.

The altar was adorned with floral sprays of pink miniature carnations, ice blue daisies, purple cornflowers and baby's breath and flanked by seven branch candelabras.

Organist, Mrs. John Shawkey, presented a program of nuptial selections. Steven Barber presented a vocal solo.

The bride was given in marriage and escorted to the altar by her father. She chose a formal length gown of white silk organza with imported alencon lace. The gown featured an all lace natural bodice with sweetheart neckline edged in alencon lace. The long tapered sleeves were accented with lace cuffs. The skirt was edged in alencon lace and flowed into a chapel length train. Her cathedral length veil with fingertip mantilla with alencon lace motifs was held in place by lace profile. She wore a moonstone and blue sapphire necklace belonging to her mother. She carried a cascade bouquet of white rosebuds, ice blue daisies accented with English ivy.

Mrs. Rodd Metzger served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Steven Franz, Mrs. James Cargo, Mrs. Jeffery Sales, Mrs. James Waldsmith, and Mrs. Rom Kenorick.

Miss Dee Dee Howerton, served as flower girl. Master J. L. Scott Metzger served as ring bearer for the bridal pair.

Mr. Stephen Chester, brother of the bridegroom served as best man. Ushers were Mr. Todd Metzger, brother of the bride, Mr. Steven Franz, Mr. David Chester, Mr. James Cargo, and Mr. Rick Tuttle.

A buffet and dance reception was held at the Elks Lodge immediately following the ceremony. The buffet table was adorned with arrangements of pink miniature carnations, ice blue daisies, purple cornflowers. The wedding cake featured a fountain and was topped with a birde and groom.

The bride is a 1971 graduate of Unioto High School, and a BS in dietetics from Miami University, and her MS in human nutrition and food management from Ohio State University. She is presently perinatal nutritionist for the Ohio Department of Health.

The bridegroom is a 1971 graduate of Unioto High School and received his BA in zoology from Miami University. He is presently attending the college of optometry at Ohio State University, where he is a member of Epsilon Psi Epsilon, professional fraternity.

Honored guests at the wedding were Mrs. Oland Schooley and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Metzger, grandparents of the bride, and Mrs. Russell Chester, grandmother of the bridegroom.

The couple will reside at 1377 Westmoreland Ct., Columbus, Ohio.

The evening prior to the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Dwight A. Chester hosted a rehearsal dinner at the Fox Farm Inn, Chillicothe.

Miss Metzger was guest of honor at showers hosted by Mrs. Todd Metzger, and Mrs. Mark Young.

Dear Abby:

Their Farm Not A Vacation Spot

DEAR ABBY: Since we moved to a farm, relatives and friends have come uninvited and unannounced. Some even come for the weekend, asking if they can leave their children with us for "a few weeks." (They say, "It will be a good learning experience for them.")

Abby, don't people realize that a farm is not a vacation resort? There's work to be done daily, even if we don't punch a clock or report to a foreman. We like company, but we don't want them dropping in whenever they feel like it. Please print this, but don't tell where it came from.

NOGUTS

DEAR NO: People with no guts need to be protected from people with guts galore. I hope this letter helps, but don't count on it.

DEAR ABBY: My 17-year-old daughter recently brought home a swim suit she purchased. She tried it on for me and it looks very skimpy. Most of her rear is exposed to public view.

She showed me how the top can be removed to go topless, and says she may wear it that way sometimes.

I told her that she might get arrested if she goes topless in public, but she says it is now legal for girls to go topless in Texas.

Is that true?

MRS. C.

DEAR MRS. C.: My Texas legal experts inform me that females who go topless in public can be charged with indecent exposure and for disorderly conduct.

DEAR ABBY: May I comment on the letter complaining because some perfectly able-bodied people use the parking area marked, "Reserved for the Handicapped."

I have high blood pressure, diabetes, chronic bronchitis and a bad heart, and I am not supposed to walk great distances, so I used the convenient parking areas set aside for the handicapped. I no longer do so, however, because of the dirty looks I got from people who saw me parking there.

Please tell your readers that not all handicapped people are on crutches and in wheelchairs. I may look healthy, but I am...

HANDICAPPED TOO

DEAR HANDICAPPED: Go ahead and use those convenient spaces and ignore the dirty looks. God knows and YOU know, you qualify, and those who don't know don't matter.

DEAR ABBY: Some Duluth, Minn., waitresses complain bitterly that Canadian tourists refuse to tip them!

What say you Canadian readers deny or justify not tipping U.S. waitresses?

FATHER L. IN CLEVELAND

DEAR FATHER: I'm for letting my Canadian readers speak for themselves. Canadians?

Assembly Accomplishments Many

By ROBERT E. MILLER

Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Despite their political differences, Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes and the veto-proof Democratic legislature have cooperated this year on some problems.

The biggest was a balanced, no-new-taxes budget for the 1977-1979 biennium, with Rhodes providing the "working" document and the legislature making a few priority shifts but leaving it otherwise pretty much intact.

Rhodes, in his annual "state of the state" speech to a joint session Jan. 12, called for 14 specific measures. Only one — a bill to crack down on cigarette bootlegging — was enacted, and that was under Democratic sponsorship.

Similarly, several other gubernatorial proposals found their way into law, after being amended all or in part into Democratic measures.

Two programs espoused by both the governor and Democrats have passed the House and are pending in the Senate where they could be further considered after the legislature's return Sept. 19.

One sets up a system to review Ohio's proliferation of agencies and commissions — with an eye toward weeding out unneeded bureaucracy — and the other gives tax breaks to industries which shift from scarce natural gas to alternate fuels.

The biggest disappointment of the administration, says Craig Zimpher, legislative liaison for the governor, has been lack of progress on a four-bill package to spur industrial development in blighted areas. Those measures remain at the hearing stage, and another Rhodes proposal, to aid port development, is under study in a House subcommittee.

Other administration bills, either not yet heard or given only cursory review, would deny pensions to public employees convicted of crimes, strengthen state securities laws, allow county prosecutors to go after consumer fraud, and establish a division of credit unions in the commerce department.

Among the 14 proposals also were those calling for married Ohioans to receive joint filing credits under the state income tax, and requiring bills introduced in the legislature to be accompanied by fiscal impact statements. They found their way into majority Democrats' budget language bill.

In his Jan. 12 speech, Rhodes called for modernization of bureau of motor vehicle laws "by computerizing its operations and distributing license plates in a manner more convenient to Ohio's drivers." In 1979, drivers will be able to buy them by mail, as a result of a new law.

Rhodes called for programs to strengthen services to Ohio senior citizens. Two bills emerged from the House and went to the Senate, although not specifically at Rhodes' request.

TWO FIRSTS — Becky Kuhlwein, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kuhlwein, 5871 Route 762, Ashville, placed first in Preserve and Serve IV, first in Candy Making, and second in Pioneer Crafts.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Despite their political differences, Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes and the veto-proof Democratic legislature have cooperated this year on some problems.

The biggest was a balanced, no-new-taxes budget for the 1977-1979 biennium, with Rhodes providing the "working" document and the legislature making a few priority shifts but leaving it otherwise pretty much intact.

Rhodes, in his annual "state of the state" speech to a joint session Jan. 12, called for 14 specific measures. Only one — a bill to crack down on cigarette bootlegging — was enacted, and that was under Democratic sponsorship.

Similarly, several other gubernatorial proposals found their way into law, after being amended all or in part into Democratic measures.

Two programs espoused by both the governor and Democrats have passed the House and are pending in the Senate where they could be further considered after the legislature's return Sept. 19.

One sets up a system to review Ohio's proliferation of agencies and commissions — with an eye toward weeding out unneeded bureaucracy — and the other gives tax breaks to industries which shift from scarce natural gas to alternate fuels.

The biggest disappointment of the administration, says Craig Zimpher, legislative liaison for the governor, has been lack of progress on a four-bill package to spur industrial development in blighted areas. Those measures remain at the hearing stage, and another Rhodes proposal, to aid port development, is under study in a House subcommittee.

Other administration bills, either not yet heard or given only cursory review, would deny pensions to public employees convicted of crimes, strengthen state securities laws, allow county prosecutors to go after consumer fraud, and establish a division of credit unions in the commerce department.

Among the 14 proposals also were those calling for married Ohioans to receive joint filing credits under the state income tax, and requiring bills introduced in the legislature to be accompanied by fiscal impact statements. They found their way into majority Democrats' budget language bill.

In his Jan. 12 speech, Rhodes called for modernization of bureau of motor vehicle laws "by computerizing its operations and distributing license plates in a manner more convenient to Ohio's drivers." In 1979, drivers will be able to buy them by mail, as a result of a new law.

Rhodes called for programs to strengthen services to Ohio senior citizens. Two bills emerged from the House and went to the Senate, although not specifically at Rhodes' request.

One would give Ohioans 65 and over, and the disabled, 25 per cent discounts on winter heating bills, while the other would give statutory sanction to a program under which senior citizens get discounts on merchandise from participating merchants, with their "Golden Buckeye" cards.

Clinics To Gain In Appalachia Bill

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) — Clinics in the Appalachian region stand to gain if a bill to give rural clinics use of Medicare funds to hire employees is passed by Congress.

Officials of the Appalachian Regional Commission, based in Washington, D.C., said the bill would permit clinics in medically underserved areas which employ nurses and physician assistants to be reimbursed by Medicare.

Forty of the commission's 240 primary care clinics lose their eligibility for ARC support this year, and will face deficits if Medicare does not pay a percentage of their costs.

TWO FIRSTS — Becky Kuhlwein, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kuhlwein, 5871 Route 762, Ashville, placed first in Preserve and Serve IV, first in Candy Making, and second in Pioneer Crafts.

Attend Farm Bureau State Youth School

BARBARA BOLENDER

DAVID A. RITTINGER

Barbara Bolender and David A. Rittinger joined more than 100 teenagers from 60 counties at the Farm Bureau State Youth School at Otterbein College, Westerville, last month.

The school provided advanced training in leadership and recreational skills.

Highlighting the week was the Defensive Driving Course. In this course, the young people gained fundamental skills in and knowledge of safe driving techniques.

The youth helped to set policy at the school through participation in Advisory Council discussion groups, and both were elected to the Farm Bureau Board of Trustees.

They also studied cooperatives and organized their own co-op refreshment store.

Workshop sessions included recreational leadership, musical adventures, creative dramatics, devotions planning, and publication of a school newspaper. Classes in group singing and recreation were an integral part of the week.

Miss Bolender is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Bolender, 23647 Ringgold-Southern Road, and Rittinger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Rittinger, 30096 Wolf Road.

Goat Winner

Kim Mapes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mapes, Circleville, had the reserve champion in her class at the Goat Show at the Pickaway County Fair.

Grange Plans Picnic

Mt. Pleasant Grange, will hold their annual cook out picnic, at 6 p.m., August 10, at A. W. Marion State Park. Members are reminded to bring a food basket and meat to grill.

In event of rain members are asked to meet at the lake and discuss plans.

CREATIVE SECOND — Jackie Thompson, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thompson, 2773 Walnut Creek Pike, had second place in Senior Creative Arts.

John, Dodgers Blank Reds, 4-0

"LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers had just shut out the Cincinnati Reds 4-0 on Tommy John's two-hitter to move 12½ games in front in the National League West, and Reds' Manager Sparky Anderson commented:

"I'm not dead until they bury me, but I have a terrible feeling they're about ready to."

The two-time world champion Reds had entered the four-game series with the hopes of scoring a sweep and getting back into the West Division pennant race.

But the 34-year-old John, who has made a career of beating the Reds, not only shut them out; he also slugged his first home run in nine years.

"Hitting the home run was a big thrill, no question about that," said John, who has an 8-1 career record against Cincinnati. "But to shut down the Reds like that rates even a bigger thrill. To shut them out means I've done a great job of pitching."

The victory ended a four-game losing streak for the Dodgers.

John, 13-4, hurled his second shutout of the season and the 32nd of his career while pitching his seventh straight victory. He allowed only a secondinning single by George Foster and a third-inning double by Ken Griffey. He retired the final 16 Reds in order.

"He's either the best they've got or he's tricking us," said Anderson. "There was no pressure on us tonight. Tommy John just stuck it to us. He pitched a great game."

John homered in the third off loser Paul Moskau, 2-3, and one out later, Bill Russell drilled a double down the left-field line.

Third baseman Pete Rose disputed whether the ball was fair, arguing so intently with umpire John McSherry that he was thrown out of the game.

Anderson also was ejected.

When play resumed, Reggie Smith shot a line drive into the left-field pavilion for his 20th home run of the season and a 3-0 Los Angeles lead.

"If there was any time for a kid to make a bad pitch, that was it," said Smith. "Everybody was arguing with the umpire so all the pitcher could do was go over to the bench and sit down."

The Dodgers added a fourth run in the sixth inning when Roy Cey singled. With two out, Rick Monday singled him home.

Ohio Legion Baseball Tournament

LESTER SMITH MEMORIAL — The Youth Baseball League has started a memorial award in honor of a man who devoted much of his lifetime to sports of all kinds. It is dedicated in memory of Lester Smith, who died this spring in an automobile accident. The award will be given annually to a Circleville Little League Major team during the Pickaway Tournament. For this initial year,

Rangers Take Pair From A's

By BARRY WILNER

AP Sports Writer

"It was just a perfect triple play ball," said Toby Harrah. So the Rangers' third baseman grabbed Manny Sanguillen's grounder, stepped on third and fired to flip the ball to Mike Hargrove at first for the first triple play in Texas' six-year history as the Rangers swept two games from Oakland 5-2 and 3-0 Monday night.

The triple play came in the nightcap and helped Roger Moret post his second victory without a loss this

Cincy Bentley Opens With Tourney Win

CINCINNATI (AP) — Old baseball coaches never die, they just keep slugging away.

That could serve as the credo of Joe Hawk, one of the legendary names in American Legion baseball.

The 72-year-old Cincinnati coach has been coaching five-time national champion Bentley Post since 1940.

Hawk took the first step toward another title Monday when Bentley opened the Ohio state championships at Athens with a 5-3 victory over Steubenville.

Hawk said he has never tired of the sport he has coached for 54 years.

"I would rather see one baseball game than 10 games of anything else. You'd be surprised how many new things you see," Hawk said.

Teater To Speak To Snowmobilers

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP) — Robert W. Teater, Ohio Natural Resources director, will address the Aug. 9 annual meeting of the Northcentral States Boating and Snowmobile Law Administrators Association at Salt Fork State Park Lodge near here.

Other speakers during the four-day meeting, which opened Monday, include Rear Adm. David Lauth, chief of boating safety for the U.S. Coast Guard, and Rear Adm. Robert Scarborough, commander, Ninth Coast Guard District, Cleveland.

season. Moret hurled hitless ball for 62-3 innings before Jim Tyrone singled to center.

Harrah had an otherwise harrowing night. He was involved in a fistfight with Oakland pitcher Jim Umbarger, a former Ranger, in the first game and was ejected.

Blyleven threw a five-hitter in the first contest. Dave May and Claudell Washington each homered for the Rangers' offense in the second game.

The sweep gave Texas 25 triumphs in its last 31 games and moved the Rangers to within 2½ games of first-place Chicago in the AL West.

Elsewhere in the American League, California took a pair from Kansas City, winning the opener 6-4 and taking the nightcap 7-2. Chicago nipped Seattle 5-4, Baltimore defeated Cleveland 6-3 and Detroit topped Milwaukee 6-1.

Angels 6-7, Royals 4-2

The Angels' doubleheader sweep broke a five-game Kansas City victory streak and gave the Angels a six-game winning skein, their longest of the season. California also reached the 500 mark.

Bobby Bonds hit his 27th homer and sixth in seven games in the nightcap. Nolan Ryan won his 16th game, tops in the majors, in the opener and Gil Flores collected three doubles to help the Angels sweep.

White Sox 5, Mariners 4

Chicago moved one-game ahead of idle Minnesota when Lamar Johnson smacked a one-out home run in the ninth inning to beat Seattle. It was Johnson's second homer of the game and gave rookie Randy Wiles his first major league triumph.

Seattle had rallied to tie the game in the top of the inning when Carlos Lopez tripled and Bob Stinson singled him home. Oscar Gamble's 21st home run of the season, a career-high, had put the White Sox in front 4-3 in the seventh.

Orioles 6, Cleveland 3

Clutch relief pitching by Dennis Martinez helped the Orioles break a three-game losing streak while extending Cleveland's losing string to five.

Martinez, 10-6, twice left the bases

Speedy Pet Wins Scioto Feature
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Speedy Pet, driven by Jean Gauthier, won the featured eighth race in 2:02.3 at Scioto Downs Monday night, paying $6.20, $2.40 and $2.40.

Second-running Impatiens finished three lengths behind Speedy Pet to pay $2.20 and $2.20. Alchemist showed, paying $4.20.

Bob Bialik Cut By Cincy Bengals
WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Rookie punter Bob Bialik, a 10th round draft choice, became the Cincinnati Bengals first cut of training camp Monday.

Bialik, from Hillsdale (Mich.) College, was released on waivers. He punted six times for a 28 yard average in the Bengals 23-20 National Football League preseason game loss to the Green Bay Packers Saturday night.

The move left the Bengals with 55 players. The roster has to be cut to 52 by Aug. 30.

LESTER SMITH MEMORIAL — The Youth Baseball League has started a memorial award in honor of a man who devoted much of his lifetime to sports of all kinds. It is dedicated in memory of Lester Smith, who died this spring in an automobile accident. The award will be given annually to a Circleville Little League Major team during the Pickaway Tournament. For this initial year,

Rangers Take Pair From A's

By BARRY WILNER

AP Sports Writer
"It was just a perfect triple play ball," said Toby Harrah.

So the Rangers' third baseman grabbed Manny Sanguillen's grounder, stepped on third and fired to Bump Wills at second. Wills then flipped the ball to Mike Hargrove at first for the first triple play in Texas' six-year history as the Rangers swept two games from Oakland 5-2 and 3-0 Monday night.

The triple play came in the nightcap and helped Roger Moret post his second victory without a loss this

Cincy Bentley Opens With Tournery Win

CINCINNATI (AP) — Old baseball coaches never die, they just keep slugging away.

That could serve as the credo of Joe Hawk, one of the legendary names in American Legion baseball.

The 72-year-old Cincinnati coach has been coaching five-time national champion Bentley Post since 1940.

Hawk took the first step toward another title Monday when Bentley opened the Ohio state championships at Athens with a 5-3 victory over Steubenville.

Hawk said he has never tired of the sport he has coached for 54 years.

"I would rather see one baseball game than 10 games of anything else. You'd be surprised how many new things you see," Hawk said.

Teater To Speak To Snowmobilers

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP) — Robert W. Teater, Ohio Natural Resources director, will address the Aug. 9 annual meeting of the Northcentral States Boating and Snowmobile Law Administrators Association at Salt Fork State Park Lodge near here.

Other speakers during the four-day meeting, which opened Monday, include Rear Adm. David Lauth, chief of boating safety for the U.S. Coast Guard, and Rear Adm. Robert Scarborough, commander, Ninth Coast Guard District, Cleveland.

season. Moret hurled hitless ball for 62-3 innings before Jim Tyrone singled to center.

Harrah had an otherwise harrowing night. He was involved in a fistfight with Oakland pitcher Jim Umberger, a former Ranger, in the first game and was ejected.

Blyleven threw a five-hitter in the first contest. Dave May and Claudell Washington each homered for the Rangers' offense in the second game.

The sweep gave Texas 25 triumphs in its last 31 games and moved the Rangers to within 2½ games of first-place Chicago in the AL West.

Elsewhere in the American League, California took a pair from Kansas City, winning the opener 6-4 and taking the nightcap 7-2. Chicago nipped Seattle 5-4. Baltimore defeated Cleveland 6-3 and Detroit topped Milwaukee 6-1.

Angels 6-7, Royals 4-2
The Angels' doubleheader sweep broke a five-game Kansas City victory streak and gave the Angels a six-game winning skein, their longest of the season. California also reached the .500 mark.

Bobby Bonds hit his 27th homer and sixth in seven games in the nightcap. Nolan Ryan won his 16th game, tops in the majors, in the opener and Gil Flores collected three doubles to help the Angels sweep.

White Sox 5, Mariners 4
Chicago moved one-game ahead of idle Minnesota when Lamar Johnson smacked a one-out home run in the ninth inning to beat Seattle. It was Johnson's second homer of the game and gave rookie Randy Wiles his first major league triumph.

Seattle had rallied to tie the game in the top of the inning when Carlos Lopez tripled and Bob Stinson singled him home. Oscar Gamble's 21st home run of the season, a career-high, had put the White Sox in front 4-3 in the seventh.

Orioles 6, Cleveland 3
Clutch relief pitching by Dennis Martinez helped the Orioles break a three-game losing streak while extending Cleveland's losing string to five.

Martinez, 10-6, twice left the bases

loaded in pitching 41-3 innings of relief.

Larvell Blanks had five hits, including three doubles, in the contest, which saw Baltimore move within three games of idle Boston in the AL East.

Tigers 6, Brewers 1
Jason Thompson's 19th home run, a long blast off the facing of the third deck in Tigers' Stadium, led the Detroit victory. The Tigers scored five times in the second inning, with a two-run single by Rusty Staub the key hit.

Jim Crawford, 4-4, started his first game of the season and scattered 10 hits before being relieved in the eighth by Steve Foucault.

Set Softball Tournament
The seventh annual K of C Slow pitch softball tournament is set for Sept. 9, 10, and 11. It is an A.S.A. sanctioned tournament.

An entry fee will be charged. Fifteen jackets are included in the prizes. Trophies will be awarded to the first four places.

Hall Of Fame Rites Held

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — "Words almost fail here," Commissioner Bowie Kuhn said as he introduced Ernie Banks to an overflowing throng that witnessed induction ceremonies for the six newest members of baseball's Hall of Fame. "They called him 'Mr. Cub,'" Kuhn said.

No other introduction was necessary on Monday for the former Chicago Cubs infielder who blasted 512 home runs in his 19-year major league career.

"We got the setting—sunshine, fresh air, the team behind us. So let's play two," Banks said, eliciting a roar of approval from the crowd which included some 600 Cubs' fans who had come to this upstate New York village in the Adirondack Mountains.

They remembered a Babe Ruth home run in Yankee Stadium, a Jackie Robinson steal of home, a Sandy Koufax nohitter. Now it was Ernie Banks entering the Hall of Fame.

"He had the movements of a great watch," Judy Johnson, a Hall of Famer himself, said about Banks.

"You set it today and it keeps perfect time. Banks was one of the best baseball competitors we've ever had. I have never heard any bad remarks about him. He was and is a gentleman."

The crowd in the tree-shaded park agreed. One fan held up a sign proclaiming "America Loves Ernie Banks."

Also receiving plaques at the dedication ceremonies were Al Lopez, Joe Sewell, Amos Rusie, Martin Dihigo and John Henry "Pop" Lloyd, swelling the Hall's membership to 163. Rusie, Dihigo and Lloyd were honored posthumously.

Lopez, who caught more major league games than anyone, was honored for his managerial skills. In the 16 years he managed the Cleveland Indians and Chicago White Sox, his teams won two American League pennants and finished second 10 times.

Dihigo is the first Cuban to be enshrined in the Hall. Accepting his plaque was his cousin, Jose Valdivielso, a former pitcher with the Washington Senators. Two men unfurled a Cuban flag when Valdivielso approached the podium.

John Amos Rusie accepted for his uncle and James Ursury of Atlantic City, N.J., where a baseball field is named for Lloyd, accepted for the former Negro League infielder.

In the 35th annual Hall of Fame exhibition game played at Doubleday Field, built on the site where the first baseball game was reportedly played, the Minnesota Twins used home runs by Terry Bulling, Lyman Bostock and Bob Gorinski and three innings of no-hit pitching by Gary Serun to defeat the Philadelphia Phillies 8-5.

Before the game, broadcaster Mel Allen introduced members of the Hall of Fame who had returned to Cooperstown: Charley Gehring, Bill Terry, Joe Cronin, Bob Feller, Luke Appling, Burleigh Grimes, Red Ruffing, Lloyd Waner, Roy Campanella, Stan Coveleski, Stan Musial, Rube Marquard, Buck Leonard, Monte Irvin, George Kelly, Cool Papa Bell, Jocko Conlan, Whitey Ford, Earle Averill, Billy Herman, Judy Johnson, Cal Hubbard, Fred Lindstrom and Robin Roberts.

GOOD CATCH — Melvin Henry, left, 17129 Little Walnut Road, and Douglas Knece, Route 4, pulled these four catfish and one bluegill from Little Walnut Creek early

Saturday morning. The smallest was one and a half pounds, and the largest tipped the scales at five pounds. Night crawlers were the bait.

Bucs Edge Cubs In Thriller, 7-6

By KEN RAPPOPORT

The Pittsburgh Pirates certainly have given Jim Fregosi his money's worth, both as a player and a "fan."

"This team gives you a little heart flutter now and then," says Fregosi, "but it's exciting to watch them hit."

Fregosi's pleasure is doubled when he is directly involved in the Pirate electricity, like Monday night when he keyed a ninth-inning rally that provided Pittsburgh with a dramatic 7-6 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

In other National League action, the Los Angeles Dodgers blanked the Cincinnati Reds 4-0; the St. Louis Cardinals turned back the New York Mets 4-2 and the Montreal Expos nipped the San Diego Padres 6-5.

Dodgers 4, Reds 0
Tommy John hurled a two-hitter and slugged his first National League home run as Los Angeles defeated Cincinnati. Reggie Smith also hit his 20th homer as the Dodgers widened their lead to 12½ games over the Reds in the NL West.

John, 34, won his seventh straight decision, allowing only an infield single in the second inning by George Foster and a two-base hit in the third by Ken Griffey. The Los Angeles left-hander retired the final 16 batters.

John homered off loser Paul Moskau, 2-3, in the third inning with nobody on base.

Cardinals 4, Mets 2
Ken Reitz' home run with two on in the ninth inning led St. Louis over New York. Jerry Koosman, 8-12, had limited St. Louis to five hits in eight innings before the Cards broke through in the ninth.

Gary Templeton singled to left to start the inning and was sacrificed to second by Hector Cruz. Koosman intentionally walked Ted Simmons and the runners moved up to second and third on a ground ball by Keith Hernandez. Reitz then hit one of Koosman's pitches over the left field fence.

Expos 6, Padres 5
Warren Cromartie's RBI single in the eighth inning led Montreal over San Diego. Chris Speier had drawn a one-out walk from Padre reliever Bob Shirley, 6-15, and was awarded second base on a balk before pinch-hitter Jose Morales flied out. Dave Cash was then walked intentionally to get to Cromartie, but the rookie foiled the Padres' plans with his single.

Don Stanhouse, 8-8, picked up the victory with two innings of relief. Joe Kerrigan pitched the ninth inning and earned his ninth save for Montreal. —

Reds Dissension: Real Or Not?

CINCINNATI (AP) — Johnny Bench, denying reports of trouble between the Cincinnati Reds and their press corps, calls it a case of clubhouse jousting being taken too seriously.

"Sure there was some yelling in the clubhouse, but that goes on all the time," Bench said Monday, reacting to an Associated Press story that stated the world champions have been feuding with writers.

"No one takes it seriously," Bench told The Cincinnati Enquirer.

Annoyed over critical stories, Bench, backup catcher Bill Plummer and Dave Concepcion had words with reporters last week.

Bench and Plummer labeled one writer "a cheap shot artist" after reading a story pinned up on the clubhouse bulletin board.

They were unhappy with recent stories written by Hal McCoy of the Dayton Daily News. McCoy contends the Reds' collapse this season is due to complacency, poor attitude and blatant disregard of curfews.

Concepcion fumed over a newspaper story he felt branded him as a scapegoat in a recent loss. Concepcion, who is bidding for the all time record for fewest errors by a shortstop, booted a double play ball that allowed the Chicago Cubs to win in the ninth inning.

"Everyone gets mad at something that is written sometime," said Bench. "Davey got mad. If he never got mad he'd wind up being a whipping boy."

Slugging sensation George Foster also got in the act, saying he would not talk anymore with "negative writers." In recent weeks he has walked away on three occasions from at least one writer at the first question. Foster denied Monday in Los Angeles that he had ever snubbed any writer.

Reds captain Pete Rose, after hearing Bench take issue with McCoy's column, interjected: "Hal is right. The only thing this team leads the league in is suntans." One reporter described the exchange as "a tense moment." Another said Rose meant it light-heartedly.

McCoy said Bench "was mostly kidding."

Rose later said, "Five years ago we had some rules. There was no golf, tennis, or swimming on game days. It's different now. The only rule we have says I'm not allowed to bring my boy into the clubhouse anymore," referring to a new rule banning family members from the dressing room.

"I told the truth. I was honest," said Rose.

Bench said Monday, "What was wrong with getting a suntan the last two years when we won the world championship?"

McCoy, in a story for The Washington Star Tuesday, quoted Manager Sparky Anderson as saying "The worst thing to me is to see a fine, fine group of baseball players like this go down the drain. It's a shame. I heard a couple of them the other day say 'the hell with it.'"

Anderson waved off Monday's wire service story, saying the author "must be the world's greatest dreamer."

McCoy quoted Joe Morgan as saying "Our togetherness is gone. This is no rap at the new guys, but there are too many strange faces around here. Some guys may quit this season, but I plan to grind it out. If nothing else, for myself. I won't be one of the rats deserting the ship."

Redskins Topple Cleveland Browns

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mark Moseley redeemed himself and Joe Theismann made Coach George Allen sit up and take notice Monday night as they led the Washington Redskins to a come-from-behind 16-14 National Football League preseason victory over the Cleveland Browns.

Moseley, a six-year veteran, missed a conversion try and two field goal attempts before connecting on a 29-yarder with just 17 seconds remaining in the game.

Theismann, the No. 2 quarterback behind Billy Kilmer, directed the Redskins on the winning drive after

Concepcion fumed over a newspaper story he felt branded him as a scapegoat in a recent loss. Concepcion, who is bidding for the all time record for fewest errors by a shortstop, booted a double play ball that allowed the Chicago Cubs to win in the ninth inning.

"Everyone gets mad at something that is written sometime," said Bench. "Davey got mad. If he never got mad he'd wind up being a whipping boy."

Slugging sensation George Foster also got in the act, saying he would not talk anymore with "negative writers." In recent weeks he has walked away on three occasions from at least one writer at the first question. Foster denied Monday in Los Angeles that he had ever snubbed any writer.

Reds captain Pete Rose, after hearing Bench take issue with McCoy's column, interjected: "Hal is right. The only thing this team leads the league in is suntans." One reporter described the exchange as "a tense moment." Another said Rose meant it light-heartedly.

McCoy said Bench "was mostly kidding."

Rose later said, "Five years ago we had some rules. There was no golf, tennis, or swimming on game days. It's different now. The only rule we have says I'm not allowed to bring my boy into the clubhouse anymore," referring to a new rule banning family members from the dressing room.

"I told the truth. I was honest," said Rose.

Bench said Monday, "What was wrong with getting a suntan the last two years when we won the world championship?"

McCoy, in a story for The Washington Star Tuesday, quoted Manager Sparky Anderson as saying "The worst thing to me is to see a fine, fine group of baseball players like this go down the drain. It's a shame. I heard a couple of them the other day say 'the hell with it.'"

Anderson waved off Monday's wire service story, saying the author "must be the world's greatest dreamer."

McCoy quoted Joe Morgan as saying "Our togetherness is gone. This is no rap at the new guys, but there are too many strange faces around here. Some guys may quit this season, but I plan to grind it out. If nothing else, for myself. I won't be one of the rats deserting the ship."

GOOD CATCH — Melvin Henry, left, 17129 Little Walnut Road, and Douglas Knece, Route 4, pulled these four catfish and one bluegill from Little Walnut Creek early

Saturday morning. The smallest was one and a half pounds, and the largest tipped the scales at five pounds. Night crawlers were the bait.

New Nicklaus Arriving On Scene

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Pretty Barbara Nicklaus fastened herself into the seat of the transcontinental jet flying her from her Florida home to the Pacific Coast and talked enthusiastically about her two golfing men.

"We're all excited about young Jackie," she said, referring to the eldest of the Nicklaus brood—15 year-old Jack II. "You know, he will be trying to qualify for the National Amateur at San Jose next Monday."

It's a big week ahead for the Nicklauses and Barbara now finds herself with a double rooting interest.

Jack, the world's best golfer, will be going for his fifth PGA championship and another major golfing crown at Pebble Beach, starting Thursday.

Then—win, lose or draw—he and Barbara will sweat out Jackie's qualifying efforts at San Jose.

"I was sitting in the clubhouse watching Jack and Jackie come up to the 18th fairway at Muirfield," Barbara said, referring to Jack's hand-fashioned course in Columbus, Ohio, "And I had to smile. Jackie pointed to

Reaves Set To Go After Ken's Job

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — All due respect to Ken Anderson, but Cincinnati Bengals backup quarterback John Reaves has designs on winning the starting job with the National Football League power.

"This year, I really feel I'll be in there," said Reaves. "People might laugh, but that's how I feel."

Coming off one of his finest performances as a pro, the six-year signal caller from Florida feels he is ready to challenge Anderson for the No. 1 spot.

Anderson has established himself as one of the NFL's most accurate passers. He was the first quarterback in 15 years to win back-to-back titles as the league's top-rated quarterback.

Reaves knows it will take a super effort. But he welcomes the challenge.

"I've never conceded a starting job to anyone in my life," said Reaves, a former No. 1 draft choice of the Philadelphia Eagles.

Buoyed by a 10-for-12 effort in a 23-20 loss to the Green Bay Packers on Saturday, Reaves says he is ready to shuck his role as a pinch-hit performer.

In November of 1975, with Anderson sidelined suffering a back injury, Reaves connected on 13 of 23 passes for 162 yards and two touchdowns to key a crucial 23-19 victory over Houston.

That was his biggest splash in two seasons with Cincinnati. He is convinced he could pilot Cincinnati's high-powered offense to a big season.

The University of Southern California took numerical honors in the 1977 National Football League draft. Fourteen Trojans were selected.

Jack's ball and said, 'Pop you're away.'

A stringy six-footer, taller than his dad, Jackie is considered an outstanding prospect. It appears we may be reading Jack Nicklaus headlines for the next 20 years.

When he was playing in the British Open at Turnberry, Scotland, a month ago, the elder Nicklaus became so interested in talking about his son's golfing proclivities that he subordinated his own.

That didn't keep him from shooting final rounds of 65-66 in the fierce stretch duel with the ultimate tournament winner, Tom Watson.

Young Jackie, like his father, is a golfing protege. A fine, smooth striker of the ball, he already is battling championship courses with rounds in the low 70s.

If his present enthusiasm and determination continue, he will, the experts insist, be another champion.

"We never tried to push Jackie, or any of the other children, into golf," Barbara said. "In fact, if anything, both Jack and I bent over backwards for fear that any of them might feel we were putting undue pressure on them."

Besides Jackie, the Nicklaus offspring include Steve, 14; Nancy Jean, 12; Gary (named for Gary Player) 8; and Michael, 4. All show aptitude in sports—baseball, basketball and tennis. Nancy Jean is a budding gymnast.

Jack II has been a standout in both basketball and tennis but he currently is wrapped up completely in golf.

Jack, the pappa bear, was beating the best men players in Ohio when he was 16. He won the first of his two national amateur crowns at age 19 and was 22, a tour rookie, when he beat Arnold Palmer in a playoff at Oakmont, Pa., for the U.S. Open crown in 1962.

It was this head-to-head victory that faded out the Palmer era and ushered in the Nicklaus era of golf.

The elder Jack has gone on to win more than $3 million in official prize money, collect 63 tour victories and 16 major championships—more than any man who ever lived.

He continues to rewrite the record book and there is no indication that at age 37 he is ready to yield his mantle to anyone else—even to the 27-year-old Tom Watson, who has beaten him this year in both the Masters and British Open.

A victory at Pebble Beach this week would put him even with the great Walter Hagen in PGA titles: five. Then he could go after a record five U.S. Opens (Willie Anderson, Bob Jones and Ben Hogan had four each), and add to his five Masters and two British Opens.

By that time there should be another slugger ready to take over—Jack Nicklaus II.

Redskins Topple Cleveland Browns

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mark Moseley redeemed himself and Joe Theismann made Coach George Allen sit up and take notice Monday night as they led the Washington Redskins to a come-from-behind 16-14 National Football League preseason victory over the Cleveland Browns.

Moseley, a six-year veteran, missed a conversion try and two field goal attempts before connecting on a 29-yarder with just 17 seconds remaining in the game.

Theismann, the No. 2 quarterback behind Billy Kilmer, directed the Redskins on the winning drive after

Frederick Named Medic President

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Kenneth A. Frederick, of Cincinnati, has been installed as 30th president of the Ohio Academy of Family Physicians. He succeeds Dr. H. Judson Reamy, of Dover.

Other officers installed at the annual convention here were: Glen F. Aukerman, Jackson Center, president elect; Oliver K. Roth, Cincinnati, vice president; Andreas S. Ahbel, Canton, speaker of the house; Eunice R. Carter, Cuyahoga Falls, vice speaker; John E. Verhoff, Columbus, treasurer. Robert S. Young, Johnstown, national delegate; Carl E. Spragg, New Concord, national alternate.

Prep Students At Special Meet

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Some 60 outstanding high school students from throughout Ohio will participate this week in the Martin W. Essex School for the Gifted at Ohio State University.

Participants were nominated by their school district superintendents and are considered among the most talented high school students in the state.

The school, which concludes Saturday, was developed to prepare students to be responsive to contemporary needs and to expose them to new sources of knowledge and ideas.

1978 Models Are In At Tagg Camper Sales

Tagg Camper Sales, located on U.S. Route 23 North, has announced that 1978 model recreational vehicles are now in and on display at the sales lot for your inspection.

More beautiful than ever before, the 1978 Wilderness models are now in, and the 1978 Southwinds are available within a few weeks.

This year, the models are featuring radius, or curved, corners. These trimmed corners cut wind resistance and thus save gas mileage, and also add to the overall sleek appearance of the "homes away from homes."

The Southwind, manufactured by Fleetwood Enterprises, Inc. is the best investment for family fun in the long run. Fleetwood Enterprise Inc. is the nation's largest producer of recreational vehicles.

Fleetwood purchases building materials in large quantities at extremely attractive prices. Also on your side at Fleetwood is their experience — they have led in value and practicality for a quarter century.

Southwind construction is designed for the long run too. With Vacubond steel walls, the ride is quieter and more enjoyable. And structural integrity is evident throughout the Southwind models that you look at.

Many people have wondered whether or not recreational vehicles will be included in any type of a "gas-guzzler" tax.

Walter Tagg, owner of Tagg Camper Sales, cites a recent article by Terry Colvin, a staff writer for the Press-Enterprise. Colvin's article was recently reprinted in the Southwind Magazine.

The article stated that recreational vehicles have been excluded from any plan by the administration for a tax on heavy gas using vehicles.

According to the article, "recreational vehicles don't contribute significantly to overall gasoline consumption, according to officials of the federal energy administration." "If we subtracted the total amount of gasoline used each year by RVs from the total consumed in the nation, the result would be a small fraction of the total consumption," according to FEA analyst Carmen DeFiglio, who was quoted in the article.

DeFiglio stated that 2.5 billion barrels of gasoline were used in the United States last year by 140 million motor vehicles. Less than a million of those vehicles were motor homes, according to the report.

Other persons ask the question, "If I purchase a recreational vehicle, will there be enough gasoline to operate it?"

In reply to that question, Tagg cites a commentary recently aired over the CBS radio network given by M. Stanton Evans.

In the commentary, Evans stated that the history of petroleum geology is full of false predictions that the world was about to run out of oil.

"In 1914 the Bureau of Mines projected that future production would amount to only 5.7 billion barrels. Since that time the U.S. has produced 34 billion. In 1939 the U.S. Department of Interior said the U.S. supply of oil would last only 14 more years; we have since discovered more oil than the total known supply at that time. In 1949, the Interior again said that the end was in sight; thereafter U.S. production was increased by more than a million barrels a day."

Evans stated that a big part of the problem has been government controls and other interference that has im-

RADIUS CORNERS are a new feature of the 1978 model recreational vehicles. Radius, or curved, corners, such as the ones on this Sprinter, enable the owner to get somewhat better gas mileage, decrease wind resistance, and add to the overall good looks of this RV. It is just another example of the quality engineering that goes into every Sprinter model.

A COMPLETE SERVICE department is available at Tagg Camper Sales. The main building at Tagg's was enlarged to allow for even more space to stock spare parts. Just about anything you might need, from spare nuts and bolts to air conditioner parts is available at Tagg's. A parts delivery truck assures prompt delivery of parts in the rare event that Tagg's does not have the part you need. THE SOUTHWIND is now available at Tagg Camper Sales on U.S. Route 23 North of Circleville. With construction designed for the long run, the Southwind is your best investment in the recreational vehicle field. Stop in today and look at the Southwind — the 1978 models are only a few weeks away.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth sign.

FOR WEDNESDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Do not be impulsive, but neither hold off action because of uncertainty over your abilities. Curb doubts and fears. You DO have ability: Back it with self-confidence.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): You may be tempted to take an unexpected fling in money matters and, if your judgment is as good as it usually is, it should pay off.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Inspiration at a peak. A unique idea you have can be carried off with just the right touch of ingenuity to make it work.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Keep your head and maintain the pace that's best for you. Don't let others distract you with ideas of doubtful worth especially if they clash with your innate conservatism.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Strong indication of gain through past efforts. A good period, too, for launching new enterprises. Study all suggestions carefully, however.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Stellar aspects indicate new activities, some reconstruction in your life, but you could lose out on good opportunities if you are lethargic or indifferent — Both tendencies now.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Don't go off on the tangents that so often upset a well-running routine. Aim for accomplishments in which you can justifiably take pride.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Stellar influences somewhat restrictive where finances are concerned, so watch the budget. Avoid a tendency to overspend on luxuries.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): A good day for tackling important and controversial issues. In this connection, some information you receive in an unusual way should be carefully noted.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): A golden opportunity to put your unusual ideas across. They'll get a satisfactory hearing if presented logically.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Expect some complications due to a conflict of personalities. You can handle, however, with tact and a determination to preserve good will.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): If undecided or uncertain about accepting a financial proposition, it would be better to reject it. Your truly extraordinary intuition won't play you false.

YOU BORN TODAY are a colorful, life-loving individual; vigorous, enthusiastic and dynamic of personality. If you will harness your tremendous driving powers in the quest of worthwhile goals, there is no limit to the heights which you can attain. Extremely versatile, there are many fields in which you can achieve eminent success, but most especially in the law and statesmanship, in the theater, medicine, teaching and writing. Your wit and congeniality make you a delightful companion. Just one admonition: Control a tendency toward combativeness. Birthdate of: Herbert Hoover, 31st Pres., U.S.A.; Eddie Fisher, singer.

Property Burns As Dayton Firemen Picket Blocks Away

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Fires broke out in two abandoned apartment houses today and spread to at least one occupied dwelling while striking firemen picketed three blocks away and refused to help douse the flames.

The first blaze, which gutted the apartment building, also severely damaged an adjacent two-story frame house occupied by two families. No injuries were reported. Firemen from the neighboring community of Madison Township responded to a call for help but were too late to keep the house from being engulfed.

The second fire was burning uncontrolled, and residents of nearby homes were trying to remove their belongings for fear it would spread.

Judge Sets Hostage Case Ruling

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Hamilton County Common Pleas Court judge was expected to rule today on whether accused kidnaper Rita Gibran was coerced into taking part in the 15-hour Feb. 11 hostage-taking incident at a home for unwed mothers.

Jury selection in the woman's trial was delayed Monday when the woman's attorney sought a ruling on that issue.

She and her former husband Jesse Coulter, 42, both of Utica, Mich., are charged with 11 counts of kidnapping stemming from the takeover of the Catherine Booth home in suburban Avondale.

Gibran, 37, held on $1 million bond, is also charged with one count of felonious assault.

Defense attorney Bernard Gilday Jr. met privately with Judge Thomas C. Nurre during opening-day proceedings Monday to argue that Gibran was forced by Coulter into accompanying him from Detroit and participating in the attempt to gain information on a son they gave up for adoption 20 years ago.

Coulter said he was inspired to find his son by the television series "Roots."

They were arrested by a police officer posing as the missing son. The hostages were released unharmed and the couple has never found out what happened to their child.

Gibran faces a maximum possible sentence of 15 years.

Gilday said he will call several psychiatrists to testify to Coulter's mental state, which Gilday claims is highly unstable. "He is a violently insane person, a manic depressive," Gilday said.

Showers and thundershowers faded out across Ohio early today, but warm, humid air continues to cover the state. The unstable air was expected to produce some more showers.

Cloudiness was variable over the state during the night and some patches of fog formed early today.

Some showers or thundershowers were expected to spread into southwestern Ohio this morning and thundershowers were forecast over most sections of the state this afternoon and tonight. Highs today were to reach the 80s in most sections.

A slow-moving cold front extending from western New York to southern Michigan early today was expected to become nearly stationary across Lake Erie today. Little change in temperature is expected tonight and Wednesday but showery weather will become more likely south of the front.

Jackson, said Dayton firemen chopped a hole in the wall, then told residents they would have to fight the fire themselves.

More than 370 Dayton firemen said when they walked off the job Monday that they would respond only in life-or-death situations. Their action left this city of 241,000 without fire protection for the first time in history and with limited ambulance service.

Some policemen were expected to stay off the job today in support of the strike in sympathy with demands by Fire Fighters Local 136 for higher wages and a shorter work week.

The added prospect of diminished police protection had city officials, businesses and residents preparing for possible duty as supplemental safety forces.

Negotiators met until early today trying unsuccessfully to rewrite a contract for firemen. Their contract expired Feb. 28.

Montgomery County Common Pleas Court Judge William Wolff Jr. ordered the firemen back to their posts six hours after their work stoppage began, but none did so since service of the judge's order had hardly begun.

Key issues in the strike are wages and working hours. Novice firefighters start at $12,043 a year, and the union is seeking a 6 per cent increase. The city has offered a 2.65 per cent wage increase. Firefighters also want their work week reduced from 52 to 48 hours.

City Manager James Alloway, who called the strike "unconscionable" because half the firemen live outside the city, said the city cannot afford the $6.25 million it would cost to hire extra firemen over the next five years to reduce the work week.

Alloway indicated he would not agree to the union demands, even though firemen and other city officials say the city is without adequate fire protection.

Fire Capt. Paul Hemminger said, "I've been assured by the city manager and chief that they have a (fire) contingency plan, but I'll be damned if I've got a glimmer of what that plan is."

Meanwhile, suburban fire fighting companies have been told to stand by to assist Dayton's remaining fire fighting force, and private ambulance companies were being sent to emergencies usually covered by firemen.

Vance May Extend Mission

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Secretary of State Cyrus Vance, rebuffed by Syria on a proposed meeting of Mideast foreign ministers, may extend his current mission in an effort to find a "necessary consensus" for an Arab-Israeli settlement.

While Vance met Friday with Jordan's King Hussein, U.S. officials said the secretary may extend his scheduled 12-day trip to include return visits to various capitals, adopting a shuttle-diplomacy style reminiscent of his predecessor, Henry Kissinger.

In Cairo the semi-official newspaper Al Ahram said Egyptian Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmy has received an urgent message from Vance on his talks with Hussein and Syrian President Hafez Assad.

The newspaper gave no details of the message, but said Egyptian President Anwar Sadat would meet with top aides today to study reports of Vance's talks with other Arab leaders.

Vance and Sadat, in a meeting earlier this week, agreed on a plan for a meeting of foreign ministers from Israel, Syria, Jordan and Egypt in the United States next month to work out details for resumption of the Mideast peace conference in Geneva.

Vance took the proposal to Syria where it was rejected by Assad, who advised concentrating instead on the Geneva talks.

B&W Buyout Still Fought In Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A county judge has disallowed any immediate interference with the $585.6 million buyout effort by United Technologies Corp., of the Babcock & Wilcox Co.

Judge Clifford Rader of Franklin County Common Pleas Court declined Monday to suspend a June 3 ruling of the Ohio Division of Securities which held that United complied with Ohio securities laws.

Rader asked for further written arguments from B&W, United, and the state, which is defending the securities division, but set no deadline for them to be submitted. He said he will read approximately 2,500 pages of testimony from the securities hearing last spring before ruling.

He "guessed, with eyebrows raised in question," that he would rule in the case next month.

Rader said he found no unusual hardship for B&W on the basis of arguments by Atty. David S. Cupps.

Cupps had argued that the hardship to B&W was clear.

"The irreparable injury to shareholders is clearer still," Cupps said.

United Atty. James M. Tobin told Rader B&W did nothing to stop the United stock purchase offer for two months after appealing the securities division ruling.

"We made the offer," Tobin declared. "We will do nothing. The offer is out and if anything happens it will be some court ordering us to withdraw the offer."

Missing Nuclear Material Probed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional staff investigator says one intelligence agency "believes there was a diversion" of nuclear material from a power plant, although officials from two agencies remain publicly confident that none of the missing 8,000 pounds of weapons-grade material was stolen.

The officials testified Monday before a House Commerce subcommittee looking into the way the federal government safeguards nuclear materials at both government and private plants.

"We are really confident that no radioactive materials have ever been gotten out of those plants," said Robert W. Fri, acting administrator of the Energy Research and Development Administration. But he added this was not "a 100 per cent certainty."

Fri and Lee V. Gossick, executive operations director of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, said processing problems, biased measurements or bookkeeping errors may account for the inability to trace the missing weapons-grade plutonium and uranium.

Vance May Extend Mission

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Secretary of State Cyrus Vance, rebuffed by Syria on a proposed meeting of Mideast foreign ministers, may extend his current mission in an effort to find a "necessary consensus" for an Arab-Israeli settlement.

While Vance met Friday with Jordan's King Hussein, U.S. officials said the secretary may extend his scheduled 12-day trip to include return visits to various capitals, adopting a shuttle-diplomacy style reminiscent of his predecessor, Henry Kissinger.

In Cairo the semi-official newspaper Al Ahran said Egyptian Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmy has received an urgent message from Vance on his talks with Hussein and Syrian President Hafez Assad.

The newspaper gave no details of the message, but said Egyptian President Anwar Sadat would meet with top aides today to study reports of Vance's talks with other Arab leaders.

Vance and Sadat, in a meeting earlier this week, agreed on a plan for a meeting of foreign ministers from Israel, Syria, Jordan and Egypt in the United States next month to work out details for resumption of the Mideast peace conference in Geneva.

Vance took the proposal to Syria where it was rejected by Assad, who advised concentrating instead on the Geneva talks.
